WARNS AGAINST U.S. INFLUENCE ON CANADIANS

MURRAY BAY, Que. (CP)—Resources Minister Winters appealed to Canadians today to resist the temptation of becoming "mere carbon copies" of Americans and to build up a greater tourist trade by a more distinctive Canadian culture.

He suggested there was too great a display of the United States flag in Canada and that Canadian publications feature too many American news items and news pictures.

Span Collapse Sabotage, Army Engineers Say

THREE RIVERS, Que. (CP)—Two Canadian army engineering experts said today they believe strands of wire around a section of a steel girder of the Duplessis Bridge were used to set off an explosion that caused its collapse.

Major-General H. Kennedy, federal government engineering consultant, and Brig. D. K. Black told a two-man commission investigating the collapse of the bridge last Jan. 31, that some "external force" was responsible for the tragedy. Four persons lost their lives while crossing the St. Maurice River span and another man was drowned when the tractor he was using to recover a submerged automobile crashed through the ice.

USED HIGH EXPLOSIVES

The army officers examined the debric of the 53,500,000 structure before testifying. Major-General Kennedy said he estimated that 25 pounds of high explosives were used to cause the collapse. Brigadier Black said he considered that 10 pounds of explosive would have been sufficient to crack the steel

Both said that "no better place could have been chosen for the explosion" than where it was placed near pillar No. 2 of the structure. This spot was readily accessible for such an act they said.

39 Missing In Crash Of French Plane

PERPIGNAN, France (UP)—Thirty-nine persons, including 12 children, were missing today aboard a twin-engine plane which apparently crashed into the stormy Mediterranean Sea on a flight to Algeria.

The plane was a French DC-3 of the Alps-Provence Air Line, which conducts weekly flights between Perpignan and Oran.

Aboard the plane when it left Wednesday were 24 adult passengers, 12 children including four babies and three crew members. All were reported to be French.

French and Spanish military and civil planes searched the entire flight route today, and French warships and civil vessels joined the search.

C.O. Grounds Alaska Naval Air Squadron

WASHINGTON (AP) — A naval air squadron in Alaska has been grounded by the navy for "morale reasons" after a series of recent air crashes there.

Word of the action was given to Representative Hugh Mitchell (Dem., Wash.) today in a letter from Francis P. Whitehair, Under Secretary of the Navy.

Whitehair said a special board of inquiry is investigating the accidents.

Mitchell recently asked that the navy ground all navy Privateer bombers pending a check into the circumstances of four crashes in the Alaska area. The crashes claimed a total of 45 lives.

Whitehair informed Mitchell that three of the crashes involving Privateer bombers were suffered by Patrol Squadron 9.

For "morale reasons," he said, this squadron had been temporarily grounded by the commanding officer of the Alaskan sea frontier.

A navy air squadron in the Alaskan area presumably would be used to patrol the ocean area between Alaska and Russia.

Britain Signs For 1,000,000 Tons Of This Year's Russian Grain Crop

BAR BRITISH SHIPS TAKING CARGO TO IRAN

U.K. Government Bans 'Scarce' Materials

LONDON (AP)—Britain today stopped British ships from delivering any cargoes to Iran.

Board of Trade spokesman disclosed vessels carrying "certain scarce materials" to Iran have been diverted.

This, he said, was in line with a British treasury statement which earlier this week cancelled financial and economic concessions to the Tehran government.

Breakdown of the Anglo-Iranian talks for settling the oil nationalization dispute brought about the British squeeze on Iran.

It is understood four ships are affected by the diversion.

The trade department said their cargoes—including sugar, steel tracks and railroad ties—will be unloaded at the nearest aavilable ports.

TO MAKE LOAN DRIVE

TEHRAN (AP) — Iran will launch a 2,000,000,000 rial (about $60,000,000) loan drive next week in an effort to relieve economic difficulties stemming from the crisis over nationalization of oil.

This was disclosed today, by Deputy Premier Hossein Fatemi, who said the money would be used to meet the government's payrolls.

Fatemi said Iran would protest Britain's action restricting use of Iranian-held sterling and stopping conversion of Iran's pounds into dollars.

NO OIL DEALINGS

ROME (AP)—All Rome newspapers carried advertisements today, signed by the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company of London, warning against any dealings in oil with the Iranian government.

It was the first public move here by the A.I.O.C. to protect its rights to Iranian oil. Italy has sometimes been mentioned as a possible customer for the oil which Iran is attempting to take over by nationalization.

Gambler Back In Custody Of N.Y. Police

NEW YORK (AP) — Gambler Harry Gross, urbane and grinning after his one-day flight from his police guards, was shuttled through legal proceedings today to put him back on tap as star graft case witness.

Brought back from New Jersey where he had spent a leisurely day at the races, he was hustled before a U.S. commissioner to answer a federal fugitive warrant issued after he disappeared.

Commissioner Martin C. Epstein dismissed the federal charge to formally return Gross to custody of the state, which has billed him as chief prosecution witness in its gambling-graft trial.

The trial, still in its jury-picking stage after two days, appeared likely to collapse after Gross, ex-boss of a multi-million dollar bookmaking empire, slipped away from guards at his Atlantic Beach, L.I., home Tuesday night.

VMD To Refit HMCS Quebec For Service

Victoria Machinery Depot has been awarded a navy contract to complete the refit of the cruiser H.M.C.S. Quebec, it was learned today.

The ship has been out of commission since 1947.

Suicide Bids Fail

BRUSSELS, Belgium (Reuters)—Police said today that a 70-year-old farmer made three suicide bids within 90 minutes yesterday—and failed at all of them.

They said Desire Melangreau of Bossu cut his throat, slashed his [illegible] and threw himself dow[illegible] well.

The report said he made a slight scratch on his neck, missed the vein in his wrist, got stuck in the narrow well mouth.

MURDER VERDICT GIVEN AT INQUEST

Daniel Sanger, Facing Charge, Gives No Evidence Before Coroner's Jury Today

A coroner's jury this morning brought in a verdict of "murder by person or persons unknown" after hearing evidence in the death of attractive Gwen Dora Casswell, 24, who was found dead in a basement apartment suite on Simcoe Street Monday.

Evidence of Dr. Ross McNeilly at the inquest in Chaplin's Funeral Parlors, was that death was due to the effects of an attempted abortion. Mrs. Casswell had been separated from her husband, William Robert Casswell, since July of this year.

Daniel Leroy Sanger, 60, in whose apartment the dead girl was found, has previously been charged with murder by the police. Arthur P. Dawe is his counsel.

On the advice of his counsel Sanger did not testify at the hearing.

Dr. McNeilly expresed doubt that the dead woman could have attempted abortion on her own.

Insp. Charles Webb, chief of city detectives, told the jury that Sanger came to the police station on Monday afternoon and reported there was a dead woman in his three-room apartment.

Insp. Webb told the jury what Sanger told him in relation to the case. The jury, headed by William Elkins, asked for specific instructions on the inspector's testimony.

Corner Hart ruled that Sanger's statement to the police was not admissible as evidence. It had been witnessed but was not a sworn statement.

Detective Norman Bath, who went to the apartment with Insp. Webb, said they found Mrs. Casswell lying on a couch "and she was obviously dead."

Earlier police reports indicated that death took place sometime Sunday night.

Dr. Hart asked Insp. Webb if he found any surgical-type instruments. The detective chief said that instruments had been found in the apartment. A juror wanted to know if there was evidence the instruments had been used recently. Insp. Webb's reply was that the instruments had been found but had been "hidden."

Big Three Develop Plans To Re-Arm W. Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Big Three foreign ministers hoped today to wrap up by nightfall a "contract" proposal to bring west Germany into the western defense line-up.

The way was cleared Wednesday night when State Secretary Dean Acheson and the British foreign secretary, Herbert Morrison, pledged support to the companion plan, devised by France, to make use of German troops in a European army.

Pressing for a wind-up of their conference before Friday, Acheson, Morrison and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France called a morning session to iron out their remaining differences.

The latest warning from Moscow against rearming the Germans, sounded Wednesday in a Soviet note to France, was ignored.

Ottawa Says U.K. Purchases Will Effect Canada Little

LONDON (AP)—Britain announced tonight she has signed a contract to buy 1,000,000 tons of grain from Russia.

The announcement by the Food Ministry said the grains were from this year's Russian harvest and that deliveries are expected to begin shortly.

The breakdown on the 1,000,000 tons was given this way: Wheat, 200,000 tons; barley, 425,000 tons; corn, 300,000 tons, and oats, 75,000 tons.

At Ottawa, officials considered that Britain's purchases of grain from Russia would have little effect on her purchases from Canada.

In the current crop year, Britain has agreed to buy 113,000,000 bushels or about 3,000,000 tons of wheat from Canada. She has undertaken to consider increasing that purchase by another 3,000,000 bushels at the end of the month.

TO SEE FEDERAL OFFICIALS

EDMONTON (CP) — Henry Young, president of the Farmers' Union of Alberta, said today a three-man farm union delegation will head for Ottawa to see Federal officials about grain marketing problems.

Besides Mr. Young the party will comprise Joseph Phelps, President of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union and Jake Schulz, President of the Manitoba Farmers' Union.

In Winnipeg tomorrow the delegation will confer with wheat pool officials and later stop off at Fort William on the way to Ottawa, where the Farm Union chiefs will interview Transport Minister Chevrier, Agricultural Minister Gardiner and the newly-appointed transport controller, R. W. Milner.

U.S. Forms Pilotless Plane Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force disclosed today it is forming its first guided-missile squadron, equipped with a new "pilotless bomber" type of weapon apparently intended for tactical use in warfare.

An announcement said the bomber squadron is being formed at the guided missile centre, Cocoa, Fla., Oct. 1 and that it "will be the first operational unit of its kind in the Air Force."

The squadron, the announcement said, will be equipped initially with the Matador, B-61 pilotless bomber, now in production by the Glenn L. Martin Co. of Baltimore, Md.

The squadron will train at first as part of the air research and development command but later "it will be made combat ready by intensive unit training under the supervision of the tactical air command," the announcement said.

TORONTO (CP)—Hospital attendants said today that the condition of Judge J. C. McDonald, of Edmonton, was "satisfactory."

Technicality May Upset Strike Vote

The danger of an immediate strike at Victoria's two major shipyards was reduced today despite the fact that 210 men voted in favor of a walkout with 171 against in a government-supervised vote Wednesday.

There is grave doubt that a strike at one of the yards—Yarrows Limited—would be legal.

In the vote of Yarrows, 167 men picked up ballot slips. When they were counted 83 were in favor of striking; 82 had voted against, and two ballots had been spoiled.

The T.C. and A. Act says a strike can only be called when a majority of voters has voted in favor of strike action.

The strike seems dependant on whether or not the two who spoiled their ballots are considered voters.

'Provocation' May Save Slayer's Life

Appeal Court today called a halt to the pleadings of Frank C. Cunliff K.C. appellant counsel in the murder appeal of Martin Saxey, because it was "impressed" with the lawyer's argument with regard to "provocation."

The court's action came as a surprise to Mr. Cunliff, who for days has been battling to save the life of the West Coast Indian, sentenced to be hanged on Oct. 2 for the murder of Louis Oscar at Battle Bay on Feb. 2.

Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran told the lawyer that the court was "so impressed" with his argument with regard to "provocation" that it wanted to hear Crown Counsel Arthur Leighton, K.C., reply on this point before it heard any further argument on the case.

MURDER APPEAL

His Lordship singled out Mr. Cunliff's charge that the trial judge, Mr. Justice A. M. Manson, had not directed the jury sufficiently on the point of provocation.

Mr. Cunliff had argued in Appeal Court that the judge should have told the jury that if they had any reasonable doubt that Saxey was provoked into committing murder they should give him the benefit of the doubt.

"We want to hear Mr. Leighton speak on this point before we go on to any other aspect of the case," said His Lordship.

Anglicans Delay Union Proposal

Meeting for the last session of a week-long series by the executive council of the Anglican General Synod in Memorial Hall, delegates today discussed reports of committees working on the question of union with the United Church of Canada, and decided to await further action by the committees.

Tentative dates for the 1952 Anglican General Synod were announced as Sept. 4 to 12, in London, Ontario, with the House of Bishops to hold preliminary meetings Sept. 2 and 3.

Lovett Expected To Win Approval

WASHINGTON (UP)—Deputy Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett appeared certain today of Senate approval to succeed Gen. George C. Marshall as head of the defense department.

Most Congressmen praised selection of Lovett as Marshall's successor. A few Republican Senators took occasion to renew attacks on Marshall who at 70 now goes to retirement at his Leesburg, Va., home. The majority of legislators expressed regret that Marshall, after serving his country for 50 years, was leaving.

Allied Troops Capture Commanding Korea Peak

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea (AP)—Allied troops won another commanding mountain peak today in their roller-coaster drive to force Communists off high points in rugged east-central Korea.

The Allies gained the mountain top northeast of Kumhwa in less than three hours of fighting against only light Red resistance.

The same United Nations troops captured another peak and seven surrounding ridges in the same area Wednesday. The Reds put up a foot-by-foot defense.

An Allied officer said Thursday there was "a definite decrease of Red strength in the sector." The area is just east of the Reds' old "iron triangle" troop assembly area in central Korea.

Allied troops captured six vital peaks Wednesday in bitter local fights that raged east of Kumhwa to the vicinity of Kansong on the Sea of Japan coast.

The battleline in the east is roughly 25 miles north of parallel 38. The fighting of the last few days has pushed Allied positions forward as much as 3½ miles in some sectors.

GET AIR SUPPORT

On the western front, action was slow. Allied patrols scanned Red positions for signs of a strike from their built-up forces there.

Sparkling fall weather gave Allied planes their best opportunity in weeks for close support of ground troops and long-range bombing forays over North Korea's rail and highway network.

By noon Thursday the U.S. Fifth Air Force had flown 250 sorties.

COURSES FOR CLERGY

WITH public attention focussed on ecclesiastical matters by the solemn proceedings staged here last week-end, it may not be amiss to draw attention to some suggestions made by an Anglican clergyman as to how ministers should be trained for their important calling.

In the opinion of Rev. Arthur Thompson, vicar of Formby, Lancashire, as expressed in a talk he gave to the Rotary Club of Liverpool, he believes that a more varied and wider training is essential if clergymen are to be the entertainers and Jacks-of-all-trades they are expected to be.

CHARM AND ART

THE 38-year-old cleric told his audience, with ironic humor, that trainees for the ministry should attend a charm school, where they would be groomed and glamorized into perfect gentlemen. In addition, they should be required to go to a school of dramatic art "to learn how to put their stuff over in the most pleasant and entertaining manner."

Furthermore, he noted, it was imperative that they, early in their training for the church, be apprenticed to a mechanical engineer in order to enable them to fix a burst church boiler or make plumbing repairs in church or rectory.

STRONG COMPETITION

WHILE the vicar of Formby no doubt was speaking with his tongue in his cheek, it is quite likely that he meant much of what he said. For he has learned, as he told those Rotarians, that the clergyman and minister today "is in competition with the cinema and its film stars and he must compete on an equal footing."

That cleric, who is evidently having hard work to hold a congregation in the face of today's apathy towards religion and the public preference for Sunday entertainment, sounds sadly disillusioned in spite of his comparative youth. I don't wonder.

MARY AND MARTHA

AND I don't doubt that many hard-worked and underpaid ministers on this side of the Atlantic would agree with that English vicar, even if they would hesitate to publicize their views quite so patently.

The only thing I am surprised at is that he didn't have something to say about the equally wide demands made on that unpaid partner in a church ministry—the parson's wife. She, too, has to be all things to all her husband's women parishioners—a combination of Martha and Mary, guide, philosopher and friend, ever at the beck and call of all and sundry. After seeing some clergymen and their wives in action in the poorer parishes, I marvel that there are still recruits to be found for the church ministry.

FLOODS AND POLITICIANS

WITH a by-election hovering on our political horizon, I was greatly intrigued at a novel notion put forward by a candidate defeated in an Australian state election, where he made such a poor showing that he lost his £25 deposit.

So he applied to the government for a refund, on the ground that he lost his money because floods blocked the roads and prevented 3,000 voters getting to the polls to vote for him. When the government refused, he wrote to the King, asking the Royal Family to bring the £25 out with them when they visit Australia next year.

AN 'ACT OF GOD'?

WHY the King should be expected to pay £25 out of his privy purse as balm to a defeated Australian—or any other—candidate, is beyond me. But then such a request is on a par with that would-be politician's delusion that if the 3,000 had been able to get to the polls they would necessarily have voted for him.

Floods are considered an "act of God" for insurance purposes. It may be that the electors of that Australian constituency are by this time accepting that particular flood as a miracle—if that defeated candidate's conduct is any criterion of his political potential.

Dutch Boy's Hand-Made Tools Win Sooke Award

SOOKE—Bigger and better than ever despite the drought and forest fires annual Sooke Produce Fair drew a record number of entries from the southern end of Vancouver Island.

The show was opened by Trade and Industry Minister L. H. Eyres. But the feature was a display of hand-made tools by a 15-year-old Dutch boy, Anton Laninga, newly arrived from Holland.

Rex Kendrew, who came to the district four years ago from Stettler, Alta., won the Colonist cup as high-point exhibitor in the fair. Veteran farmer Arnold Glinz, who had won the cup three times in succession, was second.

Mrs. K. Graegnic won the Eaton casserole for her flower display, and Mrs. Allan Smith was given the B.C. Electric rose bowl for kitchen crafts.

Anton Laninga, 15, of Holland, who settled at Woodside Farm with his family recently, won a special award for his display of hand-made tools, and Miss Gladys Graegnic was given a special prize for her handicrafts exhibit.

Old C.P.R. Boat Has European 'New Look'

By DAVE STOCK

The old-timers who spend their time on the Causeway observing the comings and goings of ships in the Inner Harbor would get the surprise of their lives if the old Princess Charlotte was to make a reappearance.

Since the day in 1949 when she was bought from the C.P.R. and taken to Greece, "Charlotte" has undergone considerable change.

The lady has had her face lifted and is now continuing her active life under the name Ss. Mediterranean. She cruises the ocean of the same name, sailing from the port of Piraeus. She is operated by Typaldus Bros.' shipping firm.

A picture of the ship just received by Capt. C. J. Williams, manager of the B.C. Coast Steamship Service, shows her "new look." One large funnel has taken the place of the three she used to have; she has a new bridge, set well back from where the other was; and the sheer strakes above her fo'c's'le have been raised.

Only major interior change is addition of a bar and cocktail lounge.

Built in the Fairfield Shipbuilding and Engineering yards in Scotland in 1908, "Charlotte" arrived on this coast the same year to begin service for the C.P.R.

She might have had longer service here had it not been for two drawbacks: she did not provide enough space for the big summertime passenger loads and was not capable of handling cars.

Price Controls Lack Is Rapped

T.L.C. Scores Federal Government For Refusal To Effect Direct Peg

HALIFAX (CP)—Trades and Labor Congress of Canada delegates today attacked the federal government's refusal to put direct price controls into effect.

The discussion came as the T.L.C.'s annual convention debated a resolution, subsequently adopted, calling for price controls and "condemning" the government for "indifference" towards the living standards of Canadians.

The resolution asked for a rollback in consumer prices, establishment of a prices board and imposition of a 100 per cent excess profits tax.

The attacks on the government were listened to by Labor Minister Gregg, sitting on the convention platform after delivering an address in which he reiterated the government's reasons for not putting in direct controls.

Douglas Hamilton of the Toronto District Trades and Labor Congress said the present administration is not a friend of labor.

The only solution, he said, is to engage in "direct political action" by defeating Liberals.

Some delegates served notice today of a motion to reverse T.L.C.'s Tuesday decision to withdraw from a co-operation set up with other major Canadian labor bodies.

How far the sponsors of the reconsideration motion would get was problematical. Chief effect of the Tuesday action was to withdraw T.L.C. from a continuing national committee on co-operation with the Canadian Congress of Labor, the Canadian and Catholic Federation of Labor and the independent railway brotherhoods.

Postmasters On Receiving End

Mrs. A. M. Bennett, postmistress at Wellington hands out mail to postal authorities at parley here. From left: G. A. Boyle, regional director; W. H. Wilson, inspector, and M. M. Nelson, sub-inspector, all of Vancouver; Postmaster John Sinclair, Victoria; W. C. McLean, inspector, Vancouver.

Loggers' Cheques Clipped By $7

An average of $7, representing arrears in hospital insurance premiums, will be deducted from the first pay cheques of B.C. loggers.

Deducting of back payments in this manner, after a layoff in seasonal industries, has been common practise, according to Lloyd Detwiller, hospital insurance commissioner.

Surplus Food Stall Needs Greater Space

Surplus food stall for Victoria's needy has grown so much, larger quarters could be used if available, according to Mrs. Barbara Green, volunteer welfare worker, who founded the scheme.

Perishable fruits and vegetables which donors could not get to the Public Market, were picked up in rural areas last week and then canned by volunteers. They will be distributed this Saturday.

"We have school children picking pears which have been offered to the stall," said Mrs. Green.

A new depot for receiving goods has been established at King's Grocery, Wilkinson Road. A recent plea for wide-mouth sealers to enable the needy to preserve the donated fruit and vegetables resulted in a good supply.

Post Office Headaches Described By Director

Incorrectly addressed mail provides the No. 1 headache for postmasters in 16 Island communities where there is no letter-carrier service.

According to G. A. Boyle, regional director of postal service at Vancouver, who is in Victoria today to attend a parely of Island postmasters, the result is:

"Delay in mails, extra work for the postal staff and a generally unsatisfactory condition for all concerned."

The conference which began Tuesday and concludes today, heard of plans to remedy the situation by pamphlets and general public education on correct addressing of mail. With city mail, the street number is sometimes forgotten; with rural mail the rural route number, Mr. Boyle said.

Chief topic of discussion was arrangements for handling of Christmas mail, with a larger volume than last year expected, Mr. Boyle said.

"We are trying to find the simplest method for carrying out Christmas mail arrangements."

Second-In-Command Takes Over

THE RESIGNATION OF U.S. SECRETARY of Defense George Marshall heralds no change in United States policy, no shake-up in the department of which he has been head for the past year. At the time of his appointment last September, succeeding Secretary Louis Johnson, Marshall specified that he would serve only until June 30. World developments resulting in the tremendous rearmament program initiated by the United States persuaded him to remain longer in the post which he now relinquishes at the age of 70. His successor, Robert C. Lovett, may be expected to fill the position with ability and good effect.

It was Lovett who, as Assistant Secretary of War for Air during the last war, was instrumental in raising United States aircraft production from almost nothing to 1,000 planes a month. It was Lovett whom Gen. Marshall had picked in 1947 to be his second-in-command in the State Department, and they have worked as an experienced team in similar capacities in the Defense Department.

The present appointment adds a new peak to Lovett's career. A graduate of Yale, he served in the First Great War as a flier. He became known as "the success boy" as a result of his activities as a New York banker, specializing in international exchange. It was a report on American plane production, the conclusions drawn from a two-year independent study, that made him a logical choice for his country's wartime Assistant Secretary for Air.

Today, at 56, Lovett has a background that well fits him for his new responsibilities. As Under Secretary of State he had entered the diplomatic field just as America's policy changed from one of bewildered groping to recognition of, and determined opposition to, Russian expansion. Those were the days, in 1947, of the enunciation of the Truman Doctrine, of Marshall's famous Harvard speech on European recovery. They were the prelude to the American decision to rearm western Europe, and the current tremendous marshalling of strength at home.

Lovett thus attains top defense authority at a time when the diplomatic policies of which he saw the first groundwork are coming to practical fruition. Under his jurisdiction will be the area which then were only blueprints, the men and materials which then were only paper plans. The United States' allies will know they have a resolute champion of democracy, in the tradition of Gen. Marshall; its enemies will recognize they face an able antagonist whose decisions will be backed by the power of the world's greatest industrial nation. As Marshall resumes the honorable retirement he once before had sought, he goes with full realization of those facts. He goes, too, with the gratitude of a nation to which, as soldier and statesman, he has devoted a lifetime of able and successful service.

Duncan's Plea Is Worthy

THERE WILL BE GENERAL SYMpathy for the mayor of Duncan in his efforts to ensure that the residents of his community have an opportunity to see Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip on their visit to this Island.

It is obvious that many communities throughout Canada, of much larger population than Duncan, must, by reason of geography and time, forego any chance to tender their homage directly. Since the royal route must pass through Duncan and other wayside points on the Island Highway, however, there should be every reasonable hope that the Prince and Princess, showing the graciousness that has endeared them to the people of the Commonwealth, may be induced to make a stop to receive greetings.

It is to be noted in this respect that the Cowichan district stands second to none in Canada for loyal response to patriotic calls, whether in war or peace. The people of that community may rightly feel that they merit an opportunity to see the young woman who may some day be Queen of Canada, and her consort. At the same time, a local state of mind described as "furious," coupled with threats of road blocks, is not likely to enhance the exchange of friendly greetings.

It must be remembered that the royal couple, by the time they reach this stage of their journey, will have endured an arduous crossing of the continent in the full glare of publicity, with further wearing formalities still facing them. It is not unreasonable on their part to seek a three-day respite from official duties at this point, to recuperate and gather strength for tasks to come. Any encroachments on this "free time" will be at the expense of the visiting couple, but they no doubt will find the time to accommodate their admirers.

Stalling For Time

THE AVERAGE CANADIAN, READing reports of the progress, or lack of it, in the Korea peace negotiations, must have long been puzzled at the squabbling over violations of the truce area. The Reds so far have lodged eleven protests against alleged western military action in the reserved district. The United Nations in turn have accused the Communists of bringing armed troops into Kaesong on several occasions.

The infringements themselves seem pretty trivial at this distance. Although the latest Chinese claim is admitted to be true—an American plane fired a few shots into walls and ground in the truce area under the impression it was over a different site—the activities complained of by either side have not been of a nature to warrant halting the talks, except for propaganda purposes. Quarreling about such charges, whether real or manufactured, is apt to have little influence on the Canadian reader who wants to know when a settlement of the Korean problem is to be negotiated.

It appears obvious that in the welter of charges and counter-charges about secondary issues, the Communists hope to confuse the main question and delay, for its full propaganda effect, a final decision. Meanwhile they are building up their strength, according to latest reports. Use of these fresh troops in a new push is no doubt the plan of the Chinese, but this development alone would clearly illustrate the falsity of the current Communist advocacy of peace.

New Seeds Of Co-operation

RESIDENTS OF OAK BAY, AS keenly interested as those of other municipalities in this community's encouragement of culture, will note with satisfaction their reeve's, reported attitude toward joint responsibility for the Arts Centre. Details have yet to be completed before participation in ownership and upkeep of the former Spencer home on Moss St. can be authorized, but the evidence of a willingness to take part, to shoulder some of the financial load, demonstrates a co-operative spirit.

If the position taken by Reeve Gibbs was "surprising," as Alderman W. F. Pinfold suggests, it was nevertheless gratifying. Oak Bay has been accused too long of avoiding partnership in matters of community value. Here, at least, is an indication of the municipality's recognition of a moral obligation. Those elected to office in Oak Bay cannot be justifiably criticized when they look first to Oak Bay's own interests. Obviously, however, in a community as closely integrated as this, interests overlap. Greater Victoria benefits in instances such as this as each municipality accepts commitments equivalent to the advantages proffered.

New seeds of co-operation appear to have been planted in the Greater-Victoria garden. May they flourish into full flowering and rich harvest.

A Bouquet Of Memory

IT IS THE GOOD FORTUNE OF THIS city and community that many of our visitors leave our shores with memories enhancing their regard for Victoria. Our homes and gardens make an impression that remains undimmed in the minds of those who appreciate their charm. Our climate, under ordinary circumstances, wins their praise. Our scenery becomes a collection of pictures in their volume of recollections, to be enjoyed in retrospect.

Few of the reactions Victoria or Victorians have caused in the hearts of strangers passing through, however, can be more satisfying than that reported by an ex-prisoner of war from Japan. His tribute to the kindliness of the citizens during his short stay here is among those rewards for which no price can be set. His gratitude is appreciated not only for its own sake, but for the inspiration it provides. As we have gained golden opinions from the ex-prisoner of war, so may we continue to enjoy the affection of others as long as we retain and express the generosity and courtesy we extended to him.

A Call For Mamma Bear

"THE HAT THIS WINTER," SAYS royal milliner Aage Thaarup, "must have a rugged, and slightly untidy look—not in the shape, of course, but in the material."

The hat, it appears, will go shaggy dog or woolly bear. And that may typify a form of appeal.

The woman who wishes to be beautiful, says Miss America 1952, should be herself, gets lots of rest, and shouldn't lead a fast life.

It may be a little difficult for some women to be themselves and be beautiful at the same time. The strength of the cosmetics industry and certain firms specializing in figure padding suggests nature and beauty aren't always too compatible.

Still, two experts have laid down specifications for attractiveness. They lead us to announce our nomination for "Miss 1953." She has a shaggy look. She is herself. She gets lots of rest, and she doesn't lead a fast life.

May we introduce "Mamma Bear." For too long she's been a minor character in a slightly moth-eaten bedtime story. Up to now we hadn't noticed it, but there it is, gentlemen, glamor in the current form.

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

THROUGH ITS local paper, I learn each week about the goings-on in a small Quebec town, on the Saguenay River. And last month I was delighted to read that the town's fortnightly square-dancing has been cancelled because of lack of interest. That's the kind of news I like to read. It has cheered me up ever since. I am not in favor of suppressing square-dancing for those who honestly enjoy it . . . they may dance themselves square, or black in the face, for all I care. But I like to hear of honest citizens who won't be bullied into it by fashion. Or bullied by the quasi-religious maniacs who not only go round spreading square-dancing as some new gospel, but who want to burn us heretics for laughing at them.

Brock

I KNOW a very serious professor of a very dry subject who gets furious if you won't square-dance, and his wife is even more fanatical. They consider me a dangerous anarchist for refusing to budge when their head lunatic yells at me:

Down the centre and up the side,
Sling yer partner like a low-down bride.

Possibly I have the words wrong, but they all sound much like that. It might have been:

Up the centre and down the middle,
Same ole toon on a different fiddle,

or:

Now then, gents, all flat on their back
With fake or genu-wine heart attack.

THERE ARE, of course, many French words in American square-dance calling. Even I, unfamiliar with such jargon, can think of do-see-do, which of course is dos-a-dos, or back-to-back. But before all square-dancing closes down on the Saguenay, I'd sho-nuff admire to hear a caller perform entirely in French. Permit me to compose a final quatrain for him:

Arrivez, car sur cette piste
Tout le monde est egoiste
Frappez, frappez du pied,
Cassez ce maudit plancher.

Having translated that into rough French, let us pour it back into rough English: "Come on, come on! for on this racetrack everyone is for himself. Bang your feet, stamp 'em, and smash this accursed floor to bits."

L. DOONE

NOT HAVING read "Lorna Doone" since I was 13 (when it was a textbook in first year high school), I took a curious glance at it the other evening and became fascinated all over again. Many of the books I admired at 13 have somehow shrunk and dried out, and several have fallen into dust and blown clear away. But "Lorna Doone" has actually improved. Since I was able to remember quite a few short passages word for word, I thought perhaps I was remembering past pleasures emotionally and might not be fit to judge the book entirely objectively, so I looked up Professor Saintsbury on the Novel to see what he had to say about "Lorna Doone." I was glad to have that mighty novel-reader to back me up.

AMONG OTHER things, he says: "Few of our modern novelists have combined so much scholarship with so much command of racy English and mother wit, so much close study of minor character and local speech with such wealth of romantic fancy; such a thorough observance of 'good form' with so complete a freedom from priggishness and prudery."

Talking of Blackmore's books in general, he says: "There is hardly a book . . . which has not vigor, variety, character, 'race' enough for half a dozen . . . the idiosyncrasy is extraordinary: the quaint and piquant oddity of phrase and apophthegm is as vivid as Dickens, rather more real, and tinged somehow with a flavor of literature, even of poetry, which was Dickens' constant lack."

HE DOES THEN point out some faults, but this praise warmed and steadied me. It also amused me, to think what my "modern" friends would make of these quotations, or of my having Blackmore in the house at all. The reference to "good form" would kill them with laughter, even when it is in quotation marks and qualified by the lack of prudery and priggishness. It is they, of course, who are the prigs and prudes . . . they are priggish about their alleged culture, and they are extremely prudish about the facts of life. They get an inexperienced and monastic snicker from things most of us dismissed years ago as just too damned ordinary in every sense. But they'd not know it. No they'd never credit that.

INSIDIOUS ADVERTISING

LIKE EVERYONE else except the copywriters in the advertising agencies, I grow weary of the same old slogans on billboards and in print and over the air. When I hear "LSMFT" for the millionth time, I can only just barely stand it by pretending it is for the final time, and by telling myself it stands for "Lucky Strike may finish tonight." But this perpetual reiteration is at its worst in my basement. In this cellar stand several boxes, holding kindling, fishing gear, tent-pegs, charcoal, old magazines saved for cut-outs when the children next fall ill, and so on. And having come from the grocer's, each box has advertising outside it. And since I am in the basement three or four times a day, I unconsciously read these wretched things all over again, and then curse.

THE ONE THAT annoys me most says IT IS ALWAYS BETTER WITH BUTTER. The devil it is. Was the watch at the Mad Tea-Party always better with butter in it? But at least watches are better with butter than meat sandwiches are. I don't know which butter goes worst on, ham or beef. But you watch, the next time I talk in my sleep, you'll hear me saying with conviction "It's always better with butter." Which is what the advertising exper wanted of me. I wish he'd get out of my basement.

Alone With His Memories

As Our Readers See It

ORIGIN OF THE KILT

In the magazine section of your paper of 25th inst., Mr. Philip Lee gives a very good account of the Scottish Highland kilt, which is not only interesting, but do doubt historically correct. Unfortunately, he does not trace back far enough.

The kilt was worn in Asia Minor centuries before the Christian era, and in Carchemish on the Euphrates, the one-time capital of Phoenecia, there are still bas reliefs extant depicting stern-faced warriors wearing the kilt, which they brought over with them when they landed in Bereth (Perth), Scotland, bringing with them their god of war, Sera, which is the Hebrew form of the word Ares.

TRAFFIC CHANGES

It is hard to see where Mr. Doble's recommendations will have any but the minutest effect on Victoria's traffic, certainly by the time they are put into effect, the traffic will have so increased as to nullify them.

Obviously the banning of parking over the greater part of the downtown area between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. would leave the streets for what they were intended—traffic—but doubtless that would hurt too many people to be adopted.

Victoria has two streets that are wide throughout the greater part of the downtown area; these are Blanshard running north and south and Pandora, east and west. Like all Victoria's streets they start and end in cul-de-sacs or bottlenecks but long-term planning could make them the city's principal arteries for traffic.

Pandora eventually could be carried straight west and cross the harbor on a high level bridge, eliminating that Devil's trap the Johnson Street Bridge approach. For a start the suggestion is made that Pandora be carried under Douglas. The city could then go ahead and tear down their antiquated City Hall and rebuild it with the extra width of Pandora thrown in.

Blanshard could be bridged over Hillside, and forked shortly after to run to Douglas and Quadra.

REVERSAL?

I would like to take exception to your editorial headed "After the Old Soldier Faded" which appeared in the Sept. 4 issue of your paper.

You are correct in stating that the three main results of the MacArthur inquiry were the decisions not to give up Formosa, to aid the Chinese Nationalists, and not to admit Red China into the U.N.

You do not seem to realize, however, that each of these decisions represents a reversal of United States foreign policy. Before the inquiry the Democratic administration was pursuing a contrary policy on each of these issues. The infamous "Formosa Directive" which the state department was ready to release is ample proof of this. The suppression of the Wedemeyer Report and the sending of Secretary Marshal to China during the civil war there, show that the administration was deliberately following a policy of hoodwinking the people into believing that the Chinese Communists were merely "agrarian reformers" and must be rewarded for their efforts.

The reckless recall of Gen. MacArthur and the subsequent Congressional hearings awakened the people and presented the Far Eastern problem to them in a truer light. The complete repudiation of the government's policy on the part of an overwhelming segment of the population, Democratic as well as Republican, forced a belated change in U.S. policy.

Contrary to your editorial opinion, the government did not stand firm, but through the workings of the democratic process was forced to capitulate and bow to the will of the people.

AGAINST THE LAWS

At the risk of being adjudged of unsound mind and the object of opprobious remarks, I take my stand in the belief that we, by disobedience to God's laws, have brought upon ourselves this prolonged drought and elsewhere the devastating forces of nature such as hail, floods, hurricanes, etc., that created such havoc.

I suggest that our ecclesiastic and government authorities hasten to entreat the Great Architect of the Universe and Controller thereof for His saving grace and to establish us in His infallible economic system.

"SINCERE."

THE MANIFESTO

Re your editorial in the issue of Sept. 4 on the C.C.F. Regina manifesto:

It is the policy of the C.C.F. as stated in the manifesto "to eradicate capitalism." You ask why the local C.C.F. tries to disguise the fact? Your question is based on an error in fact. The local C.C.F. does not try to disguise the fact. We advertise as widely as our resources permit.

Again you are in error: Mr. Coldwell and his associates are not afraid of the manifesto and they are not trying to modify it. You persist in stating this which is not true.

In a previous editorial you did misrepresent the contents of the manifesto with reference to confiscation.

Can you not understand that we of the C.C.F. are very proud of the fact that we are in a movement pledged to do all we can to eradicate capitalism and its evils from our society? We do not hide this fact. We boast of it. What we mean is that natural resources of a country should be exploited, primarily, for the good and welfare of the people and not for private profit. What is wrong with that?

J. M. THOMAS

How to Torture Your Wife : : : : BY H. T. WEBSTER

How's That?

Montreal Star

An American newspaper woman, now touring Germany, reports that officers of the occupation force, failing to find a German official who speaks English, usually resort to shouting. This is not hectoring, as the correspondent seems to think. It is the typical response of the single-language English-speaking male to a situation which requires that he should be able to speak a language other than his own. His frustration leads him to false belief that, if he raises his voice, all will be well.

The Century's Strongest Bond

By ROBERT WAITHMAN

Chief Washington Correspondent of The London News Chronicle

IF ANYTHING can be sure in this unsure world it is that Britain and the United States must and will stand together, now and as far into the future as anyone can hope to estimate.

This is a truth which the news of the day often obscures. There are what appear to be almost continuous differences of opinion: there are intermittent noisy quarrels. An American Senator denounces United Kingdom policy on this or that issue. A British Member of Parliament derides American views and American behavior. A good part of the press on each side of the Atlantic joins in, and there is another of the familiar free-for-all arguments which must often suggest to the rest of the world that the two nations are hopelessly at odds.

Yet anyone who looks a little further than the headlines will remember that this is a state of affairs which has prevailed for a long time, and that it has never had any effect on the capacity of the two countries to draw together quickly and firmly at the appearance of any real crisis.

LUXURY OF FRANKNESS

Moreover, the perceptive will see that a partnership must be very strong which without any serious damage to itself permits the partners the luxury of being as frank with one another—and even, on occasion, as rude to one another—as are the Americans and Britons.

The Anglo-American partnership is indeed very strong; almost certainly it is the strongest international partnership the 20th century has produced. It does not acquire its strength from any disposition of the British people to regard the American people as flawless things, admirable in all respects, or vice versa; and despite all recent attempts to sell the explanation, it does not spring from the existence of any "pro-British" governments in Washington or "pro-American" governments in London.

It rests upon the clear understanding on both sides of the Atlantic that in any conceivable circumstance or test, under any international conditions, the vital interests of the two nations are and will be best served by the same or similar policies.

ELOQUENT PARALLEL

Mr. Dean Acheson, the American Secretary of State, said not long ago that the direction and objective of American policy since the beginning of the Republic had been "to create and maintain the environment in which the great American experiment in liberty could exist and flourish." And that is an eloquent parallel to a thought that can be traced through the speeches of generations of Britain's Foreign Secretaries.

Britain, too, can exist and flourish only in this same environment. The liberties which a great part of the world enjoys today (and if only it were the whole of the world what problems would be solved!) were forged painfully and with many a sacrifice through the centuries in Britain.

When Britons or Americans speak of liberties they have in their minds not alone the important political freedoms—freedom of speech and of the press, freedom of worship, freedom of assembly—but also the economic freedoms, which the late President Roosevelt summarized in the phrase "Freedom from want."

From war, tension, the suppression of liberty anywhere in the world, Britain and the United States have everything to lose. From peace, stability and the practice of the liberties, they have everything to gain. They have so much to gain, and they know it so well, that they are both submitting themselves to the costs and sacrifices of a rearmament program they would have long ago thrown overboard if it had not held out the only hope of the liberty and peace and stability they seek.

And though they argue as to whose rifle is the better weapon and criticize one another's plans, they feel by conviction and instinct that the single road they are both taking is the right road. What is more, they fully expect to complete this journey, as they have completed other journeys together in the recent past.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"IT'S nice," said the Elevator Man, "to hear a good word for humanity now and then. We see and hear so many bad things about old homo sapiens it's time he got a publicity agent who could present him in a good light. That fella Diogenes who went looking for an honest man might have made a good start but he apparently didn't have much material to work on. But, believe it or not, there's lots of honest people around. They just don't get in the news; at least, not until they do something spectacularly honest. People from other cities often are surprised that a boy can leave a stack of newspapers on the sidewalk while he goes to supper, for instance, and come back to find a nickel for each paper that's gone. If people were as honest about more expensive deals as they are about that, we could certainly save a lot of trouble in merchandising. No more sales clerks, no more cashiers. They could all go on holiday and let the honest customers run things themselves. Lower main!

Tobin

"A bank in Massachusetts," said the Elevator Man, "has tried something along that line. They left a big bowl with $10 in cash on a counter with a sign inviting people who needed change to make it themselves. It proved pretty handy, too. And after two weeks the bank counted the bowlful and found it had $10.05. That says a lot for the customers. They're honest to a mathematical fault. Going up!

"Even when you're honest," said the Elevator Man, "you can make mistakes in arithmetic. That's what was worrying that young boy in church with his father. The minister announced, 'We will now sing hymn number two hundred and twenty. "Ten Thousand Times Ten Thousand." Two hundred and twenty.' The puzzled youngster nudged his parent and said, 'Gosh, Dad. Do we have to work this out?'"

New Zealanders Perturbed Over Cut In Butter Order

OTTAWA (CP)—William Marshall, New Zealand's top butter man, conferred with government officials Wednesday, seeking clarification of Canada's position on New Zealand butter sales.

The head of the New Zealand dairy products marketing commission kept mum, but informants said he was perturbed over Canadian plans to cut a prospective order for 10,000,000 pounds of New Zealand butter to 3,000,000.

He also was reported to be interested in finding what Canada proposed to do about butter imports in the future.

New Zealand has maintained it negotiated to sell the 10,000,000 pounds to private trade in Canada, when the government stepped in, setting itself up as the sole authority empowered to make imports on and after Aug. 1.

Foreign Country Representatives Move On Ottawa For North Atlantic Meet

OTTAWA (CP)—By train and by plane, in steadily increasing numbers, representatives of foreign countries are arriving for meetings of the 12-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Some of the advance guard has already arrived and the flow of delegates will continue until shortly before the meetings open Saturday at 3 p.m. E.D.T.

One of the leading delegates scheduled to arrive today is Hon. Paul Van Zeeland, Belgium's foreign minister and president of the N.A.T.O. council. The portly, handsome Belgian will preside at the historic Ottawa meetings, called to consider ways of improving the defenses of Europe and the economic relations of the treaty nations.

Mr. Van Zeeland, accompanied by the Belgian delegation, is due to arrive by air at 3.50 p.m. E.D.T. He will be followed by delegations from Luxembourg and Denmark.

Among the first delegations to arrive was one from Portugal, headed by P. Cunha, minister of foreign affairs.

The meetings, due to continue to Sept. 22, are to be held in the closely-guarded centre block of the Parliament Buildings where unprecedented security arrangements have been put in force. No one without a pass is allowed to enter the buildings. All except the formal opening meeting will be in private.

TO ARRIVE FRIDAY

The United Kingdom delegation, headed by Rt. Hon. Herbert Morrison, and the Italian delegation, headed by Prime Minister Gasperi, are expected to arrive Friday. No time has been set yet for the arrival of Foreign Mnister Schuman of France.

State Secretary Acheson of United States is due to arrive Saturday shortly before the meetings start.

Among other countries to be represented are Holland, Norway and Iceland.

The Canadian delegation will consist of External Affairs Minister Pearson, Defense Minister Claxton and Finance Minister Abbott.

Their principal advisers will include A. D. P. Heeney, under-secretary of state for external affairs; Dana Wilgress, Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom and member of the N.A.T.O. Council of Deputies; Jean Desy, Canadian Ambassador to Italy; H. O. Moran, assistant under-secretary of state; C. S. A. Ritchie, also assistant under-secretary; and R. A. MacKay, head of the defense liaison division in the External Affairs Department.

From the Defense Department there will be Ralph Campney, parliamentary assistant to Mr. Claxton; C. M. Drury, deputy minister of national defense, and Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, chairman of the Chiefs of Staff committee.

Mr. Abbott will have his deputy, Dr. W. C. Clark, and assistant deputy, Robert Bryce.

From the defense production department the advisers will include Max Mackenzie, deputy minister, and H. R. MacMillan, Canadian representative on the N.A.T.O. defense production board.

Charge of theft against Ernest F. McKinnon, a young sailor, was dismissed by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

GROWTH IS FAST

Woodcarving Interests Victorians

A Victorian and a well-known surgeon, now, residing at Edmundston, N.B., are responsible for the revival of the old and time-honored art of woodcarving in Canada and the United States and the formation of the Federation of Canadian Woodcarvers with a nation-wide membership.

The idea of the federation was conceived as the result of a correspondence between Frank Whale, 609 Toronto Street, and Dr. P. C. Laporte, M.B.E. The aim of the organization is to interest anyone, especially young people, in woodcarving.

Early this year, Mr. Whale, chief clerk in charge of accounting for the Canadian Pacific Railway here, read an article in the Medical Journal dealing with Dr. Laporte's interest in woodcarving as a hobby. He wrote Dr. Laporte and as a result the federation was formed this summer.

OPEN TO ALL

"Our aim is to foster the art of woodcarving in Canada," Mr. Whale said. "The organization is open to young and old."

Mr. Whale said he is receiving hundreds of letters from all parts of the United States requesting him to make the organization international.

"With time it will undoubtedly become international," he said.

Since the organization was formed, membership has been steadily increasing in B.C. and elsewhere in Canada. Victoria members are: Cmdr. H. W. S. Soulsby, Sister Mary Loretto, Miss Majorie Liddle, Dr. S. Janowsky, William Sutherland, Kaj Neilson, Capt. George Read, Genevieve Whale and E. G. Markland.

The federation at present has as its officers Dr. Laporte as president, and Mr. Whale as secretary.

Cmdr. Soulsby, who is an outstanding woodcarver, has been appointed editor.

Canadair's Vast Defense Orders Boom Employment

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadair Limited will begin immediate work on the department of defense production's order for T-33 jet trainers for the R.C.A.F. with the hiring of 3,000 additional workers, the company announced today.

With other defense contracts recently announced and for which employees are now being hired, this will raise Canadair's work force to approximately 18,000.

Awarding of the contract to Canadair by Ottawa followed a recent announcement that the United States air force Beech T-36-A, newly designed advanced transport trainer, was going into production for the U.S. air force at Canadair's plant in suburban Montreal.

The T-33 contract marks the company's third important defense assignment within the last two years, which includes mass production of the F-86 Sabre jets for the R.C.A.F.. Coincident with the announcement of the T-33 contract, the 100th F-86 Sabre today moved off the Canadair production line.

The T-33 will serve in the R.C.A.F. training program to bridge the gap between the Harvard trainer and the two operational jet fighters with which R.C.A.F. squadrons are equipped. This will ensure a continuing supply of trained jet pilots to meet the nation's defense needs.

Attempted Robbery Charged

ST. DAVID'S, Ont. (CP)—Earl Gilson, 27, of Niagara Falls, Ont., has been charged with attempted robbery of the Imperial Bank of Canada branch in this Niagara peninsula village.

Two other men taken into custody yesterday, after three would-be robbers fled in a flurry of gunfire from the bank, are under police guard in hospital at St. Catharines, seven miles from here.

Gilson's capture climaxed an eight-hour manhunt through woods and underbrush south of St. David's. He was found at a hydro construction camp on the outskirts of Niagara Falls.

Meanwhile, George Dabald, 27, and Boyd Englehart, 29, both of Niagara Falls, were in St. Catharines Hospital with bullet wounds police say they suffered when they traded shots with sharpshooting bank manager A. T. Minnis. They were arrested soon after the holdup near a highway on which their automobile had careened out of control.

Scientist's Curiosity Breaks Secrecy, Boosts Use Of Killer-Gadget In Korea

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—A super-secret weapon, developed in the Second World War, became so enmeshed in military secrecy that few people knew how to use it when the Korean war broke out.

The curiosity of a civilian scientist finally broke the secrecy and increased the use of the killer-gadget in Korea. It now may be a decisive weapon in turning back any new Red offensive against United Nations' forces.

Dr. Louis N. Ridenour, Jr., a radar expert in the war, pulled the weapon—the proximity fuse—out of mothballs.

The fuse is the electronic gadget that can cause artillery and anti-aircraft shells, rockets or bombs to explode within a few feet of their target.

The fuse, screwed into the nose of a bomb, has a tiny radio which sends out waves which bounce back from a target to a receiver. As the bomb nears its target, the echo waves "trigger" the bomb to explode.

CANADIAN CONTRIBUTOR

Virtually all the preliminary work on the proximity fuse was done in Canada with research centred at the University of Toronto.

Sir Henry Tizard, British scientist, brought the fuse problem to Canada in 1940 and it was turned over to Arnold Pitt, assistant professor physics at U. of T., who studied it with other colleagues.

Later the Carnegie Institute at Washington started on the proximity fuse and the work was merged with Canada's research. Armed with the Canadian information, the U.S. completed and perfected the fuse.

Last fall, Ridenour was curious why the armed forces were not using more proximity fuses even though there was a large stockpile in the Far East.

He doubted claims of some experts that they were unnecessary or ineffective.

As a result of his curiosity, a joint mission was sent to Korea last December to study the problems.

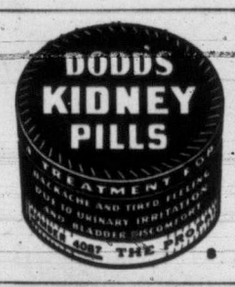
DEEP SECRET

This mission discovered the fuse had remained such a secret that airmen, artillerymen and others didn't realize its effectiveness as an anti-personnel weapon—although the fuse had been a deadly weapon in the Battle of the Bulge in the Second World War.

One officer said: "Some artillerymen didn't even know the fuse could be used in certain shells." Comparatively few had been trained in the use of the fuse.

The mission briefed the services on the potential value of the fuse as a killer of enemy troops.

The result: the army now is using 17 times as many proximity-fused shells as before. The air force, which had used none, now is using hundreds of them in anti-personnel bombs.



Eastern Deputy Named President Of Labor Group

N. D. Cochrane, New Brunswick deputy labor minister, has been elected president of the Canadian Association of Administrators of Labor Legislation, holding its 10th annual conference here.

Other officers: J. B. Metzler, Ontario deputy labor minister, first vice-president; K. A. Pugh, chairman of Alberta Board of Industrial Relations, second vice-president; Evelyn Best, Federal Department of Labor, secretary-treasurer. W. Elliott Wilson, Manitoba deputy labor minister, retains a place on the executive committee as past president of the association.

The conference discussed apprenticeship systems, safety codes, government labor publications, and minimum wage and industrial standards.

B.C. Maintaining More Roads Than Neighbor States

GANGES — British Columbia keeps up more miles of highway than Washington, Oregon and California put together, Evan Jones, deputy minister of public works, told the Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce.

He said rebuilding of the road between Fulford and Ganges was being done with funds allocated for main highways, and that work would continue to Vesuvius Bay on the same basis.

About 40 members attended the meeting at the Harbor House.

Nanaimo Holds First Fish Derby For Blind Folk

NANAIMO—Now blind folk are going fishing—and doing very nicely.

On Wednesday Nanaimo Yacht Club sponsored the first salmon fishing derby ever held for blind anglers, and found it so popular that it will be held yearly.

Harry Andrews led the field of 10 contestants with a 3¼-pound coho, and Jimmy Wells won honors for quantity by landing nine grilse.

Despite rough water and poor fishing, the fishermen trolled steadily from 8.30 a.m. to 2.30 p.m. There were 43 in the fishing party, including guides, skippers and fishermen, and seven boats.

Vice-Commodore Stan Blackburn and George Kelly had charge of the event.

Vancouver Adopts Free Food Stall

Victoria's surplus food stall begun in the Public Market by Mrs. Barbara Green in July, has set the pattern for similar stall to aid the city's needy in Vancouver.

Following a study of Mrs. Green's scheme, Richard C. Primeau, a member of the Vancouver Lions Club, secured support of his club and Vancouver welfare officials for a similar stall. It is expected about 300 families would benefit.

Woodley Heads Kin

Victoria Kinsmen Club will install Jack Woodley as president at a dinner meeting Saturday night at the Pacific Club.

Guests will be S. W. Welsh, Vancouver, national president; G. Anderson, Vancouver, district governor; Norman Martin, Duncan, Vancouver Island deputy governor.

Irish Regain Friends By Whipping Combines

I Reckon It Went Thataway

Everyone seemed to be looking for the elusive little lacrosse ball except the one man who knew where it was. Searching with puzzled expressions and apprehensive hesitation are Vancouver Combine players Kenny Webb, substitute goalie Walt Lee, Fritzie Cavallin and Ernie Smith, none of whom seem to be sure just where the ball is. Second from right is the man who knows. Arnold Ferguson peels off after faking around all the Combines shown and slipping the ball into the net for the 14th Shamrock goal. Action occurred in third game of Intercity Lacrosse League playoffs last night as Rocks whipped Combines 16-5 to take a one-game lead in series.

ROCKS MAY LOSE ARENA IF SERIES GOES LIMIT

The Victoria Shamrocks are in the soup again. This time, they're battling for the use of the arena in case there is a seventh game to be played in the Inter-City Lacrosse League finals.

The Sportsmen's Show is due to move into the arena for a three-day stand next Thursday, and on the strength of this, the league commission is trying to have the seventh game played in New Westminster, on a neutral floor.

Arena-manager Joe Dukowski blames the league commission for the current state of affairs, stating that he gave them plenty of time to schedule their playoff dates, before making an agreement with the Sportsmen's Show officials.

Fighting Display Sees Club Reach Peak Form

By DENNY BOYD

The spell was broken last night. Whatever the mystic curse was that Johnny Cavallin and his Vancouver Combines held over the Victoria Shamrocks, the Shamrocks solved it for the period of at least one lacrosse game.

They solved it long enough to whip the Combines 16-5 and take a one-game lead in the best-of-seven final for the Intercity Lacrosse League championship.

It is hard to say what manner of witchcraft was responsible for the sudden resurgence of the Rocks.

Last night they snapped out of the mesmerisation that they were wallowing in during the first two games and outplayed the Combines from one end of the floor to the other.

Maybe it was the magic potion that was shot into the arm of Art Green prior to the game. Green played a sensational game, not making a mistake all night, checking his men like a hoop around a barrel and scoring two early goals to supply the Rocks with a fighting incentive before they reached the peak of the game.

Maybe it was the inspiring checking of Red McMillan. "Tiger had the unenviable chore of marking high-stepping Gogie Stewart, the Combine fireball who has been making the Rocks wrinkle their brows a little more than somewhat with his dominating floor play. When Red walked out on the floor last night, he must have tied his boot-laces to Stewart's because it does not seem possible that one man could stay so close to another man for an entire lacrosse game as Red did to Gogie.

Red bounced Gogie around every time the little Combine speedster looked at the ball and it was the inability of Stewart to set his mates up that resulted in the offensive collapse of the Combines.

Then again it could have been the work of Bill Andrews. Bill was in a celebrating mood as he had just received a promotion from the Victoria Police Department boosting him from a constable to a sergeant. And how he did celebrate, breaking the hearts of the Combines with his 27 saves.

It could have been the manner in which the forwards hustled back to give Andrews twice as much protection as he has received in any games of the series.

You could pin the great performance of the team on the five goals and two assists that Archie Browning scored.

With all these possibilities at hand, you'd probably be just as close if you said that the Rocks played the type of lacrosse of which they are capable.

TEAMWORK PAYS OFF

This fact was indicated in the first half and pounded home in the second half as the Rocks ran wild, every one of the regulars scoring at least one point as the Rocks picked up 14 assists on their 16 goals, indicative of the team play that was used.

With Green grabbing up most of the loose balls, the Rocks went into a 3-1 lead in the first quarter. Browning started it off by scoring on a three-way pass. Larry Booth got the second marker and Darrell Popham the third before Combines beat Andrews, Harry Buchanan scoring on a snap shot at 14.55.

A pair of goals by Green plus singletons by Booth, Browning and Wally Henderson offset the only Combine goal in the second period, scored by Jim Swanson giving the Rocks an 8-2 bulge at the half.

Opening the third period after Andrews had been awarded the Leo Nicholson Trophy, honoring him as the season's best goaltender, the Rocks kept up their dizzying pace and boosted their margin to 14-5 heading for the last frame. Combine coach Johnny Cavallin removed Jack Green from the nets in the third period and replaced him with Walt Lee in an attempt to halt the Rocks.

The Rocks scored the only two goals of the last period, Browning and McMillan beating Lee while Andrews blanked the Combines.

It's back to Vancouver Friday night for what many observers believe will be the most important game of the series. If the Rocks win that one, they will have a two-game lead with the following game played on their home floor. If Combines take it, the series will be evened again and it could then go the full seven games.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor.

This was like a bunch of sailors, led by a little guy in a grotesque mask, trying to break up a party. It could have happened in Halifax, New Westminster, Seattle, Esquimalt or Kerrisdale or any night the fleet was in. With the provision of course that the dive happened to have as bouncers, a bunch of fightin' Irishmen backed up by a cop who only yesterday got his Sergeant's stripes.

It has been reported that the Vancouver Combines were trying to spoil the Shamrock Mann Cup soiree in four parts out of a seven-length serial. And also that this little guy, who lay in ambush under a miner's helmet—Gogie Stewart—and, who runs and runs and runs, was attempting to shatter a dream of this biggest of all the bouncers—Bill Andrews.

Walker

Battling for recognition in the Intercity Lacrosse League finals last night, these methodical maulers of the mainland, were intoxicated by the hope that was born here Saturday, over stimulated by their own success Monday, but sent reeling by the lightning-like and deadly accurate sorties of the Shamrocks who came out of the runway looking for trouble.

After the third period when the brilliant red lights, brilliant because they were ensconced in Shamrock green, showed a 14-5 count, the Combines were blind with rage. And in fancy you could hear the shattering of glass in the back room and the drunken gobs yelling. Let's at 'em. We'll moider the bums. Who doused the lights?

Those who had witnessed the previous exhibition here on Saturday and had by choice been party to the return joust in Vancouver Monday, couldn't believe their eyes. They couldn't believe that these same Irishmen with two of their chief henchmen, Norm Baker and Whitey Severson, gone, could do this thing. They couldn't believe it, that is, unless they had been around when Bill Dickinson led his braves down from the North Shore hills with similar ideas. Which ideas, incidentally, were promptly knocked back into the hills whence they came.

The Sarge Earned His Stripes

The team they saw in Memorial Arena last night wasn't the same team that played here on Saturday, though it was recognizable by the same numbers worn on its jerseys. Either that or it suddenly decided that the party was getting too rough even for gobs.

Combines discovered this early, too. And realizing their only hope for the future was to keep out of the gendarmes' way left the scene of hostilities knowing full well that they had never been in a battle like this in any honkytonk in Vancouver.

As a guy said halfway through the last quarter: "I didn't know that Bill Andrews had been promoted today. But he's sure earning those hooks ain't he. The police commission won't dare rip 'em off now."

Then there was this other little fellow who only last week was named the "Most Popular" of a pretty popular crew. They call him "Red," though his real name is John. Well "Red" was given a special detail last night. He was stationed at the door to keep watch for Stewart, who has a nasty habit of inciting riot once he gets inside those outer defenses.

"Red" left a good impression, too, not only on Stewart, who didn't run fast enough this time, but on about 5,000 customers who are willing to pay good money to see the Mann Cup.

A New Philosophy In Lacrosse

But there was also another guy who stood out in a field of standouts. A guy just about as big as Stewart and a guy who packs a bolo that shocked goalie Jack Green into semi-retirement shortly after they had given Andrews the Leo Nicholson Trophy at intermission time. They call this fellow Archie Browning. He got five goals in the game, three past the paralyzed features of Green and two by Walt Lee, who has been around about as long as Harry Harding's old man, Fred.

Fred, who can remember the time when Stanley Ketchell retained his middleweight title in 1908, was proudly displaying an autographed baseball that son Harry had brought back from St. Louis.

"In those days," said Fred, reminiscing just a little, "they didn't touch gloves in the ring like they do now. They shook hands. And in this particular fight Ketchell just hauled off and hit Billy Papke right on the button without breaking after the boxers had accorded one another the customary politeness. That's how Ketchell regained his crown."

And maybe that's the Shamrocks' new secret. Hit 'em when they least suspect it. But get the first punch in and make it a good one. Once they're reeling as they were last night, then you can rack 'em up. The rest is easy. And wasn't it—last night?

The Leo Nicholson Trophy? It goes to the most valuable goalie in the league, and wasn't he, too—last night?

Unknowns Hold U.S. Golf Key

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — If anyone had told you that seven Walker Cup stars would be on the sidelines after three days of competition in the 51st National Amateur Golf championship, you'd probably have recommened a doctor.

But that's just what has happened.

Oklahoma City's thin man, Charley Coe, is the only big name left in the tournament. With the exception of bespectacled Harold Paddock, Aurora, O., linksman, all of Coe's Walker Cup teammates, Frank Stranahan, Lillie Turnesa, Bobby Knowles, Jimmy McHale, Sam Urzetta, Dick Chapman and Bill Campbell, are on the sidelines.

In fact, there are so many strange names teeing off in today's round of sixteen, even the golf experts can't tell a contestant without a program. Lightning not only struck once in this upset-riddled tournament, it flashed seven times.

URZETTA BOUNCED

Yesterday, defending champion Urzetta, usually a picture of consistency, fell apart like a youngster and was eliminated, 2 and 1, by a 39-year-old Mamaroneck, N.Y., father of five children. This came shortly after McHale of the host Saucon Valley Country Club bowed out.

Before the tumult and shouting was over, out went Chapman, British amateur champion from Pinehurst, N.C.

Teeing off in the upper draw today will be Joe Gagliardi, conqueror of Urzetta, against Robert E. Evans, unknown from Cleveland, O.; George E. Victor, who coincidentally hails from Golf, Ill., facing Coe; Billy Picard, Charleston, S.C., son of well known professional Henry Picard, against Tommy Jacobs Jr., national junior champ from Monticello, Calif., and Bob Eckis, 27-year-old Kenmore, N.Y., insurance salesman, playing Edward P. Martin, East Cambridge, Mass., probate court officer.

The lower half sends Jack Benson, Pittsburgh real estate man, against Paddock; Laur Crannell of Dallas, winner over Chapman, against Billy Maxwell of Odessa.

Jim Frisina, Springfield, Ill., movie chain operator, tries Wynsel Spencer, 31-year-old two-time Virginia amateur champion, and Ellis Taylor, Newark, Del., state king, meets Arnold Blum, southern amateur champ from Macon, Ga.

"YOU BEAUTIFUL REDHEAD," says Archie Browning as he gives Red McMillan an appreciative smack on the cheek after last night's playoff lacrosse game, won by Shamrocks 16-5 to take a one-game lead over Vancouver Combines. Red fully deserves the smooch that he is getting from Browning—it was the red-headed workman who stuck to Gogie Stewart like paint on a wall to prevent the Combine threat from unlimbering his agile legs. Browning deserved to be bussed too; he chipped in with five sensational goals and two assists to lead the fightin' Irish.

EXPENSES TOO HIGH

Rep Rugby May Be Out For City This Year

There may be no McKechnie Cup rugby team in Victoria this year.

This was announced at a meeting of the Victoria and District Rugby Union last night. Union officials stated that at the present moment, the union is financially insecure, and to keep a rep team operating takes plenty of money.

In the first place, in the McKechnie cup series the Victoria team would have to travel to the mainland at least three times. Secondly, it would cost money to keep the equipment in good condition and to have the uniforms kept clean.

The union is in favor of having the McKechnie Cup series on one condition, however. That is if the three mainland rugby teams have a playoff in Vancouver, and then send the winning team over to play here for the cup. A letter to this effect will be sent to the B.C. Rugby Union (the parent body) in Vancouver.

In the local rugby union this year, there has been a tentative schedule drawn up embracing five clubs. They are: J.B.A.A., Wanderers, Crusaders, Navy and Victoria College. J.B.A.A. is putting a team in the first and second division.

UNION TO BENEFIT

Application will be made shortly to the parks board for the use of Macdonald Park for the rugby games. All proceeds from these games will go to the B.C. Rugby Union.

Before last night's meeting was concluded it was announced that Rep crests would be given to all members of McKechnie Cup teams of previous years for a small fee.

OFFICIALS TO MEET

Victoria Soccer Referees' Association will hold a meeting at the main Victoria fire hall tonight at 7. All referees and prospective referees are asked to attend.

Stop The Fight? Randy Says 'No,' Sugar 'Yes'

NEW YORK (AP) — Should referee Ruby Goldstein have stopped the Robinson-Turpin fight with eight seconds to go in the 10th round?

"No," says Randolph Turpin, the dethroned middleweight champion.

"Yes," says Sugar Ray Robinson, who regained the title.

And "yes" says almost everyone else at the ringside.

It was a comparatively dull fight up to the 10th round and then everything happened. First off Turpin opened a cut over Robinson's left eye from which blood gushed forth, soon staining both fighters.

Robinson waded into Turpin with machine-gun rights and lefts to the head and body. Turpin fell to the canvas—the second time in his career he has been knocked down—but bounded up at nine.

Then Robinson cornered him the ropes, and with Turpin's hands down and the Englishman defenceless, the Harlem Negro pounded his foe. Turpin never went down.

Referee Ruby Goldsein peered anxiously at the dazed champion. Then he stepped in swiftly and proclaimed Robinson the new champion of the world.

"He was dazed," said Goldstein afterwards. "When I stopped the fight he started to go to Robinson's corner. He kind of fell right in my arms.

No one in Turpin's corner made any protest, said Goldstein.

But afterwards in his dressing room Turpin declared:

"The referee should not have stopped it. I was perfectly keen. There were only eight seconds to go and I was covering up. The doctor will confirm them."

Ringside observers thought he was badly dazed and taking terrific punishment—but it is true that a few minutes later he appeared fresh and calm, and posed with a bright smile alongside Robinson.

Where It Hurts Most

With blood streaming from a cut over his left eye, Sugar Ray Robinson jolts middleweight champ Randy Turpin with a punishing right to the jaw. The punch was one of the last in the fight, Turpin going down shortly after as Robinson regained his crown, won by Turpin in England, by scoring a technical knockout in two minutes, 52 seconds of the 10th round at Polo Grounds last night. TEMPORARY HOLDER of the world middleweight crown, Randy Turpin of England, stiffens up as he heads for the canvas in the 10th round of scheduled 15-rounder with challenger Ray Sugar Robinson at New York last night. Turpin was felled for a nine count by Robinson's jolting blow, regained his feet and tried to go on. However, referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the fight, giving Robinson back his crown on a technical knockout in the 10th. (AP wirephoto.)

Robinson Smashes Turpin In Tenth

Ends Bloody Brawl With 'Do Or Die' Performance

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UP)—Sugar Ray Robinson said today it was "do or die" in the bloody 10th round when he recaptured the middleweight crown from Randy Turpin on a technical knockout in their $1,000,000 fight. But he was willing today to give the young Englishman a "rubber" shot at the title.

An electrified crowd of 61,370 at the Polo Grounds saw 31-year-old Robinson shoot the works in the 10th round last night, saw him floor Randy for a count of nine, and then batter him into such helplessness on the ropes that referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the bout at 2.52 of that session.

Just when Sugar Ray launched his desperate assault it seemed he would fail to win back the 160-pound title from the lad from Leamington, Eng., who had outpointed Robinson for the crown at London on July 10.

Although 23-year-old Randy was slightly behind in the general scoring, he had come on to win the 8th and 9th rounds, and had reopened a deep gash in Robinson's left brow early in the 10th. The 10-stitch cut, which had been suffered originally in July at London, was bleeding so profusely that the faces of both negroes were smeared with blood when the somewhat faded Harlem hotshot opened his terrific attack.

DOWN GOES RANDY

Ray staggered the confident, powerful 23-year-old Briton with a straight right to the chin. He drove him into the ropes with a barrage of hooks to the head. They came off the ropes and Robinson dropped him flat on his back with a right to the jaw for the count of nine.

When Randy rose groggily, Sugar Ray tore into him with a savage hooking attack to the head that again drove him into the ropes. There Robinson landed at least 20 blows with all his power to head and body until the helpless Briton finally lurched forward into the arms of referee Goldstein.

It was a dramatic ending to one of the most remarkable matches in ring history—an international fight that sold out every seat from which the action could be watched and turned away more than 10,000. Many of the rejected stormed the steel gates.

When last night's return bout was signed, promoter Jim Norris anticipated a crowd of 35,000 and a gross gate of $400,000. But it drew 61,370 and $767,630.

The crowd was the largest for any fight anywhere since 1938, when Joe Louis and Max Schmeling attracted 70,000 to their second bout. Last night's gate was the largest ever drawn by fighters weighing less than heavyweights in ring history. Light heavyweights Paul Berlenbach and Jack Delaney set the former record of $461,789 at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, in 1926.

Robinson was slightly ahead in the official scoring when he achieved his 129th victory and his 85th knockout in 132 professional fights.

Referee Goldstein had the fight even, going into the 10th round. He had scored four rounds for each and one even. However, judge Harold Barnes favored Sugar Ray, 5-3-1; and judge Joe Agnello, leaned toward Randy, 5-4. The United Press favored Robinson, 4-3-2.

Turpin, suffering his third defeat and second T.K.O. in 44 fights, was victim of the only knockdown last night. However, he almost went down in the second session when a right to the chin buckled his knees.

Robinson, fighting flat-footed to conserve his energy, appeared somewhat faded from the "unbeatable" dancing master of former years. However, he apparently was stronger at 157½ pounds than he had been in London at 154½—a low weight he attributed to staleness. Turpin registered 159 last night.

Turpin opened his defense brilliantly by taking the first round after knocking Ray back onto his heels with two solid straight rights to the chin.

ROBINSON AT BEST

But Robinson's combination attack to body and head earned the second, third and fourth sessions, and gave Ray an even break in the fifth. Ray took the sixth with a barrage and a left right to the left kidney that caused Randy to lift his left leg in pain.

They fought on even terms in the seventh; then Randy took command until he was nailed in the 10th.

BRITISH AGREE NO GANGSTERS IN RAY'S WIN

NEW YORK (UP)—British sports writers, who in their advance stories had feared "a jobbing" for their Randy, agreed today that Sugar Ray Robinson regained the world's middleweight championship from Randy Turpin on his merit.

Polled by the United Press, they saw no evidence that "guns, sallow, hard-faced, snap-brimmed characters" as they described the U.S. fighting scene characters, had any part in the outcome.

Summed up, they seemed to feel as George Middleton manager of Turpin expressed it, "the better man won."

SUBURBAN SOFTBALL CLUBS TO STAGE BENEFIT CONTEST

To help defray medical expenses for Jack LeQuesne, member of the Langford senior softball team who injured his leg during a league game, the Colwood and District Softball League is staging a benefit game.

The game will be held at Sooke field Sunday night at 6, matching an all-star team picked from senior teams in the league, against Sooke Elders, recently crowned B.C. junior champions.

ROBBINS RETURN

United Set For League Opener

With Joe Travis in goal and the Robbins brothers—Joe, Sid and Jack—back in the fold, Victoria United will be at full strength for the opening game of the Pacific Coast Soccer League against North Shore United at Athletic Park Saturday at 2.30.

Travis, who rose to spectacular heights against the touring Fulham club this summer, won the netminder's starting position from Lorne Ettinger, formerly of Collingwood.

Difference between the Robbins brothers, who quit the club following the Fulham game, have been ironed out, George Eade of United said Wednesday, while Jack Robbins, who originally signed with Britannia this year, has been released from that commitment by officials of the city league club.

Partnering Joe Robbins at full-back will be John Pickburn on the right side.

Sid Robbins will play centre half with Jack Robbins at left half, and Bob Allen, who showed up so well last season, at right half.

SPEEDY LINE

Coach Wallace Milligan will be in the centre-forward position flanked on the left by Stan Bob at inside and Ab Travis on the wing. Denny McGee has drawn the starting assignment at inside right with speedy Cedric Robb on the flank.

Spares for Saturday's match are Ken Sneddon, Don McGee, twin brother of Denny, Don Hendry, Bill Hope, Frank Greely and Ettinger.

Milligan who was named coach last week replacing George Kulai, has been putting United through stiff workouts the past 10 days and all members of the team are reported in top physical condition for the curtain-raiser.

CHANGES DUE

It is likely that manager Tommy Restell and Milligan will make full use of the substitutes available during the match as the final composition of the team is still far from decided.

United will engage in its final practise session at Athletic Park tonight.

TORONTO IN SOFTBALL SEMIS

DETROIT (CP)—Toronto Levys qualified for the semi-finals in the national softball tournament yesterday but Toronto Ace Queens were eliminated from the women's competition when they dropped two games in a row.

Both Toronto teams won their opening games Tuesday night.

Levys lost their first game of the tournament 6-0 to the defending champions, Clearwater, Fla., Bombers, but stayed in the hunt by blanking Houston, Tex., 2-0.

Girodays Drop Second Game

CALGARY (CP) — Toronto Peoples came from behind to win their second straight game of the best-of-five Canadian softball championships 2-1 against Vancouver Girodays when Vancouver pitcher Harry Broverman walked in the winning run in the bottom of the ninth here last night.

Slow pitching Broverman seemed to have the game wrapped up for Vancouver ahead 1-0 from the top of the first to the bottom of the eighth—as tricky changes of pace baffled Toronto batters. Broverman hurled one-hit ball for the first seven innings, then threw the game away with four hits and two walks in the last two innings as Toronto seemed to find his range.

'THAT'S ANOTHER RACKET'

Premier, Heckler Spar In Election Preliminary

A listener at Mayor Percy E. George's meeting last night at Jordan River found Premier Byron Johnson more than a match in several brief verbal tussles.

When the premier approached the subject of hospital insurance, the man opined loudly:

"That's another racket."

The premier partially ignored the remark.

"I'm not afraid of you," declared the listener.

"Well, of course, that doesn't prove anything," shot back Premier Johnson.

The premier mentioned that he found Quebec hospital costs higher than B.C. when he was injured in a car accident.

"They must have seen you coming," interrupted the bald gentleman.

"Maybe they did. I was unconscious at the time," replied the premier.

The next interruption came when the premier was giving out figures on social service costs.

"Apparently my friend here is objecting to my telling you what the government is doing," the premier told the audience.

"We never know what the government is doing," was the reply from the fourth row.

"I'm trying to tell you what we are doing," said Premier Johnson, reminding his "competition" that there was to be a question period after his address.

When the interruptions continued, Premier Johnson cut the man short by saying:

"I don't like to be discourteous, but why don't you hire a hall and make a speech?"

Brewery Workers Threaten Strike

Efforts to prevent a strike in four B.C. breweries will be made by W. T. Moodie of Vancouver, who has been appointed chairman of a three-man conciliation board.

Mr. Moodie will sit with B. M. Bremmer, company nominee, and Grant McNeill, union nominee, in hearing a dispute between Locals 200 and 300 of the Brewery Workers' Union and Westminster Brewery Ltd., Victoria Phoenix Brewing Co., Vancouver Breweries Ltd. and Sicks' Capilano Brewery Ltd.

Main issue between union and companies is over wages. About 550 workers are concerned.

Claim To Fortune Hinges On Doubtful Hand-Writing

The authenticity of a written agreement dated July 1, 1916 may be a main factor in deciding who is to benefit from a $40,000 estate left in the will of Barbara Eloise Sinclair of Victoria, who died here last year.

Orabelle Sinclair, 138 Linden Avenue, a sister of the deceased, claimed in Supreme Court today her sister agreed to will her all her personal property on the condition that she look after her mother. She bases her claim on the written agreement.

The deceased, instead, made her will in favor of two nieces, Margaret Kendal and Mary Margaret Campbell, who reside in Eastern Canada.

R. A. Wootton, counsel for the two nieces, claims the agreement is false. Handwriting experts are expected to be called. P. J. Sinnott is counsel for the plaintiff.

ANGERED, FED HORSES WINE

BORDEAUX, France (Reuters) — A disgruntled farmhand settled his differences with his boss by filling the horses' buckets with cheap red wine. The farmer charged today that because of the action of Robert Danede, 27, the horses got drunk and injured themselves in kicking the stable to pieces.

WANTS 'DEAD CATS' REMOVED

Dean Acheson Is Held Next Minister To Go

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State Dean Acheson is the next likely cabinet member to retire.

Some of the conditions necessary to make his retirement possible have just been brought about and others may be just around the corner. The prime condition Acheson himself has put upon leaving the cabinet is that the air first must be free of dead cats. That was his own phrase.

He meant that he would not want to quit under blistering fire which has been poured on him so long, but would be agreeable to resign at a moment of peak achievement and some degree of public acclaim. He'd like a dignified exit, if any.

The secretary's performance at the San Francisco conference last week earned him a generous round of public praise. He even got a half-cheer from Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R., Wis., who conceded that Acheson did a good job of gavel whacking.

OFF TO OTTAWA

Acheson is in the midst of a Big Three foreign ministers' conference here right now. On Saturday he will be off to Ottawa for wider consultations. His objective is a peace treaty or contract of some kind with western Germany.

If Acheson brings it off or makes solid progress his moment of peak achievement and praise will have come. At no other time since he took over the State Department have those conditions existed.

A LOYAL MAN

President Truman is on record repeatedly that Acheson will stay on. Perhaps he will. The President is a loyal man. But he also is a prime politician. If he is convinced that Acheson would be a liability in the 1952 presidential campaign, Mr. Trumen is likely to take advantage of a situation which would let his friend and adviser leave the Cabinet without embarrassment and, even, with considerable applause.

Some other prime politicians in the Democratic party are doing their utmost to persuade Mr. Truman to do just that. They include some members of Congress who believe their primary and general election contests will be easier next year if Acheson is out of sight.

More Oil Coming

ATLANTIC CITY—Reserves of crude oil "several times the present size" in the next few years were today predicted for western Canada. John R. White, executive vice-president of Imperial Oil Ltd., told the National Petroleum Association here that western Canada promises to rank with some of the world's largest oil-producing areas on the basis of results to date.

Victoria Daily Times

VICTORIA, B.C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1951

on the TIMES

My young friend Gerry is riding the bus to school this week. Usually he drives his own car up to Vic High, where he's taking tech. I like it when he does. He frequently gives me a lift to town, on the way, and lets me know what's going on among the young men.

When he climbed into the bus this morning, he had difficulty sitting down. His pants' pockets were full of brake linings. They don't bend so well when you try to take a seat. The car is up at the school, a patient in for treatment. Gerry's the doctor, with the automotive expert who teaches the class acting as supervising surgeon.

Stott

Gerry's car is undergoing a major operation. He's giving it a valve grind, replacing the pinion gears, putting in a new low and second, renewing the brakes and tightening up the steering.

IT'S A PRETTY costly operation, my friend explains. When he's finished it will have run up to $60 for materials alone. That's almost two-thirds of what the car cost him in the first place. Still, it'll be worth it. He wants it to be in good shape and he wants it to be safe.

Gerry can work on his car as part of his course. That's one subject in which he has an engrossing interest. And since he's going in for automotive engineering, there doesn't seem to be any more effective way of gaining knowledge and experience than by doing the practical jobs himself. The school takes in 10 cars at a time and the boys use them to develop skills in the different branches of repair work. It's an application of the old theory of learning by doing.

This is one phase of education today. It's a far cry from the tradition of a generation or two ago. It's a long way from readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmetic. But in this age it's most certainly preparation for living.

NON-MECHANICAL GUYS like me try to hide our ignorance when we talk to young people like Gerry. We're not quite ready to admit that we don't know anything about transmissions, gears or car rear-ends. Until recently, we hadn't thought of them as part of the educational processes. We'd sort of put education in a different field that covered the classical subjects, after the three "R's," and had progressed to economics, history, philosophy and abstracts.

With that background, we might have been inclined to criticize the functional use of English by Gerry's generation. Some of his crowd's sentences are held together with bail wire. They aren't the smooth job that the students of our day tried to produce. They aren't the precise articles that Gerry and his friends can turn out on a lathe. But generally they serve the purpose of communication. They usually present ideas in terms that have meaning.

BECAUSE SOME of us who are older are accustomed to the classical outlook, we're inclined to wonder about educational courses that place heavy emphasis on knowledge of how to do mechanical jobs. But, if we're honest with ourselves, we have to admit their value.

Some time ago, when our venerable chariot began to spluttter, cough and wheeze on a lonely stretch of the Island Highway, we pulled over to the side and stopped. I got out, lifted the engine hood and looked owlishly at the interior until the girl riding with me asked: "What're you doing? Looking for birds' nests?" And when she added: "Look, let's put the lid back on this thing and see if we can totter on to a service station," I went right along with her. I'm educated enough to appreciate some of my ignorance.

Guys like me thought they were trained for living. Maybe we were. But there are certain practical factors in modern life that call for the kind of education Gerry and his crowd are receiving.

Escalator Clause

District Council of the Civil Service Federation of Canada will seek a cost of living bonus and will oppose further salary revision.

"The escalator clause is a fair and popular method of adjusting salaries," local branch president G. K. Sammon said following a council meeting Wednesday night.

Thirty Victorians became Canadian citizens today when Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court awarded them Canadian Citizenship certificates. All but three of the new Canadians are of Asiatic origin.

No Royal Ball Deemed Likely

Prince And Princess Expected To Spend Leisure In Up-Island Resorts

Hopes of Victoria's younger set for a ball at Government House during the Island visit of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip appear to have been dashed.

Although extensive preparations have been made at Government House, including redecoration of the ballroom, it is now indicated the Royal pair will spend their three-day holiday at up-island resorts and not in Victoria.

Official circles decline to announce details of their holiday program. But it is speculated now after the official appearances in Victoria Oct. 15 they will drive up the Island on Oct. 16, stopping at the famed Genoa Bay Inn for lunch and the afternoon.

Then they will continue up to the luxurious resort at Eagle Crest, on the seaside near Qualicum Beach.

It's possible they may decide to spend the night at Genoa Bay before continuing further up the Island. That will depend on their own desires.

ISLAND HEADQUARTERS

Eagle Crest will be the main centre of their Island holiday. Plans have been made to receive them there either on the evening of Oct. 16 or the morning of Oct. 17 and they will stay until the morning of Oct. 19 when they go to Nanaimo to start their return journey to London via Washington, D.C.

Redecorations at Eagle Crest, once the home of the late Senator A. D. McRae, are already under way for the Royal visit.

GUARDS AT RESORT

Princess Elizabeth and Prince Phillip and their entourage will have the sole occupancy of the lodge for the holiday. No other guests will be permitted. Guards will be posted around the 225 acres of the woodland resort.

From Eagle Crest they are expected to take drives to such noted places as Cathedral Grove, beautiful Little Qualicum Falls, possibly the Alberni Canal and other nearby points. The Prince can enjoy his fishing in the waters right off the lodge and the widely-known Qualicum golf course is not far away.

Eagle Crest was built in 1936. It is set high on a bluff amid landscaped gardens and forest land, overlooking Georgia Strait to the mainland.

The living room has a balcony and fireplace reaching to the 27-foot ceiling. It is big enough to burn 7½-foot logs.

The dining room, of baronial type, has a bar of burnished copper, with metal studded doors. French doors open from the living room onto a 65-foot terrace. It has a lookout from which ships can be seen passing in the straits.

General Synod Answers Pope's Plea For Unity

Prompt answer to an appeal made by the Pope for all Christians to unite "under one flag" to face communism, has been given by the executive council of the Anglican General Synod which closed a week-long session here today.

The council said co-operation among all Christian communions was possible through the World Council of Churches, which the Roman Catholic Church has refused to join.

The Pope's appeal was brought up by Bishop A. R. Beverly of Toronto, who said he and Bishop Bagnall of Niagara were preparing a motion on it.

The resolution moved turned out to be couched in stiffer words than the meeting thought advisable. It stated that there could be no favorable reply to such an appeal until the Papacy "changed its attitude in regard to its exclusiveness and totalitarianism."

The proposed resolution sparked a lively discussion. Said Dean G. R. Calvert of Christ Church Cathedral: "This is a good motion. Let's pass it. No pussyfooting."

The discussion was joined by others who approved it, while one delegate cautioned "we are not the Grand Lodge of the Orange Order."

Primate Archbishop W. F. Barfoot of Edmonton then struck a committee composed of spokesmen for both views, which retired to compose the "toned down" resolution approved later by the executive council.

SKIPPER SAILS

The Canadian government lighthouse tender Estevan returned here today after leaving seven of her crew in Bamfield, where they reportedly went ashore for a glass of beer instead of doing work assigned them.

Decision to leave the men was made by Capt. Harry A. Ormiston.

An official of the department of transport said the men left behind would be paid off when they found their own way back to Victoria.

Swiss Sailor To Be Allowed To Stay Here

Immigration officials in Victoria said today that full visitor privileges will be accorded Jacques Markwalder, a Swiss wanderer, who sailed into harbor here Wednesday aboard his beautiful schooner, Te Hongi.

When Markwalder arrived, he was worried that he might not be able to stay because he had no visa.

His worries went when immigration officials explained that since Markwalder had come from New Zealand he would be allowed to stay for the regular interval set for non-immigrants before any papers are sought.

The sun-tanned mariner, who made the Pacific crossing all alone, with stops at Tahiti, Hawaii and San Diego, suggested he might winter here.

Seek Equality Of Assessment In School Tax

Three B.C. government officials today combed the assessment rolls of School District 63 with a view to equalizing assessments for school taxation purposes.

Areas in the district are Saanich, Central Saanich, and provincial territory.

Accompanied by municipal and school officials, Chairman D. K. Kennedy of the equalization board, and members R. F. Sewell and W. T. Turnbull, compared assessments of properties in the three areas, and promised no time would be lost in making a decision.

Central Saanich has complained to the board that while it can assess the Brentwood Bay plant of the B.C. Electric at $200,000 for municipal purposes, it is assessed at $644,000 for school taxation. This places a heavy burden on the new municipality, Reeve Sydney Pickles told the board Tuesday.

B.C. Patients' Hospital Bill $40 Millions

Insurance Plan Pays For 575,000 Cases

JORDAN RIVER—Since institution of hospital insurance in 1948, 575,000 persons have had $40,000,000 paid in hospital bills, Premier Byron Johnson said Wednesday night.

Speaking at the opening campaign meeting of Coalition candidate Percy E. George, the premier defended the hospital insurance legislation with stories, facts and figures about its operation.

Referring to increased costs of the plan, he declared:

"Every man in business has had the same experience in recent years."

The premier estimated 70 per cent of the cost of operating the hospitals is wage bills.

"But I believe the hospital workers are entitled to good pay, the same as any other type of worker. Before, conditions in the hospitals were deplorable," he declared.

WANTS MORE PEOPLE

Leaving the hospital insurance subject, Premier Johnson said he wants more and more people to come to B.C. to participate in the province's "great industrial development."

He noted that the province's population has increased 42.8 per cent since 1940. On the Pacific Coast, he said, this is only surpassed by California. The average increase in Canada is 17 per cent, he added.

INVESTORS IMPRESSED

The reason for the industrial boom was that investors felt there is a reasonable degree of stability in the province, Premier Johnson declared.

"The record of the government on development of the aluminum industry is one which allows us to carry our heads high," he said.

Mayor George told his listeners he had served in every municipal office in the last 21 years. As president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, he said he knows problems of the municipal and provincial level. Being president of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, he said he also understands the national picture.

"Eastern industrialists, I know from personal experience, look at B.C. with envious eyes. They have told me I come from the most progressive province in Canada, and one with leaders who are trying to keep B.C. to the fore," stated Mayor George.

The candidate said he had "no axe to grind and belonged to no clique."

"I hope you can regard my 21 years in civic endeavor as a yardstick as to what you can expect in future," said Mayor George.

Seven Symphony Guest Stars Scheduled For New Season

Seven guest artists to appear with the Victoria Symphony Society this season were named today by director Hans Gruber, following a meeting Wednesday night at which J. F. K. English was elected president.

On Dec. 10 the trio of Mary Hammond, cellist; Charles Farmer, pianist, and Clifford Evens, violinist, will give a performance of Beethoven's Triple Concerto. Mr. Evens, concert master of the orchestra, will also appear this season as a soloist, playing a violin concerto.

Denise Mara, pianist of Victoria and Vancouver, will appear as soloist on the Jan. 15 concert. On February 4, Lois Marshall, well-known Toronto soprano, will be guest artist. Grant Johannesen, pianist, will appear with the orchestra in the last concert of the season, March 31.

George Haddad, Toronto pianist, is also booked to play as a guest artist this year.

At last night's meeting John Wade was elected first vice-president to Mr. English. Mrs. Elza Mayhew was named second vice-president.

Dr. Roger Manning was named chairman of the guarantors' and donors' fund, which will raise funds to assist current operating expenses of the symphony.

Profit Stands Despite Cost Jump

The B.C. Power Commission continues to hold a solid financial position, showing a net surplus of $152,413, only $238 less than the previous year, according to the annual report released today.

The report pointed out that during the current year heavy carrying charges on the Whatshan Development will be levied against operations, and will not be offset until greater use is made of the available capacity of that plant.

Other factors which may have an effect on the net operating result this year are the higher expenses attributable to increased salaries and bonuses granted to offset the cost of living.

Revenue for the 1950-51 year totalled $4,064,641.

During the year the commission sold a $6,000,000 three per cent bond issue maturing in 1968.

Here is how the $4,064,641 revenue total was used:

Fifty-five per cent went for fixed charges—23.7 for interest, 17.5 for maintenance and renewals reserve, 11.9 for sinking fund and 1.9 for contingencies reserves.

Of the other 45 per cent, 19.4 per cent went for salaries, wages and welfare, 10.6 for materials, fuel etc., 2.5 for power purchased from other sources, 2.9 for taxes, 5.9 for other expenses. The other 3.7 per cent was the surplus.

ADD 4,548 CUSTOMERS

The commission added a record 4,548 new customers to bring its customer total to 44,174 during its sixth year of operation.

This total reflects the continued expansion of the commission, established in 1945 to increase the availability and supply of electricity notably in rural areas and smaller centres.

At the time of its first annual report, March 31, 1946, 14,102 customers were listed.

Queer Names Lead Penny On Search For Meaning

By PENNY SAVER

Split rock, boxing glove, bunnies' ears, devil's finger, old man and old lady.

I know! You are probably thinking exactly what I did when I first saw this string of unusual names. Understandable by themselves maybe, but not associated with each other.

What on earth could have names like that?

"Well," I told myself. "You'll never find out standing looking at names in a window. You better go in and see what it's all about."

A surprise I had!

All these queer names applied to none other than cacti.

Of all the things that it could have been it was this unusual flower of the desert.

Further investigation proved that I had not even read half the odd names.

For instance there are mammallaria plants which sell for 75 pennies, diadem cactus for the same amount, Indian fish hooks for 50 cents, panda plants at 35 pennies, and hen and chicken for 25 pennies.

Each cacti is carefully planted in a little pot and ready for you to take home.

If you feel extravagant and want several plants you can buy what is caled a "dish garden." One size, which sells for $1.50 in many different colors, holds six individual pots.

Next question that came to my mind was, what do you do with these prickly terrors once you have them in your home?

Upon voicing this the saleslady promptly handed me a list of helpful hints for the cacti-keeper.

It went like this: Water cacti well, but not too often. They love sunny places and heat from the sun is best for them. The plants do best in small pots. Transplant only in the spring.

Best mixture to plant them in is ¼ sand, ¼ garden soil, ¼ leaf mold, ¼ well rotten manure, 10 per cent charcoal, some lime and bonemeal or old mortar.

Last tip was in regard to making them bloom. Plunge your cacty, pots and all, in the garden and don't water them after you put them in. Leave until early fall, or bring back into the house, if and when, bud appears. Water well when bud appears and keep in the sun.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Don't Blame Figure Bulges On Baby—Wasn't His Fault

The idea that a woman must lose her figure just because she becomes a mother is as old-fashioned as mustache cups.

The modern doctor limits the prospective mother's gain in pounds. While she must have more food because she actually is eating for her growing child as well as for herself, there is no reason for her to abuse this knowledge and acquire rolls of fat herself.

She should have a full, well-balanced diet with emphasis on the vital foods and at least a quart of milk a day. There is no reason to pile in the pastry and pile on the fat.

After delivery the mother is left with stretched abdominal muscles. However time and exercise will snap them back near normal. I have before me a letter from a reader who tells me that she has had four children in four years and she wants to firm and flatten her abdomen.

This is a more difficult job and will take longer than it would have had there been more time and regular exercise between children. However, she can make great improvement.

Most doctors get their new mothers out of bed much sooner after delivery than was usual in the past. After a normal delivery most women are up after about six days and are allowed exercises after six weeks. However you should always follow the advice of your doctor in all such matters.

Many physicians prescribe the knee-chest position. In this, you kneel on both knees and place your head on your arms, which rest on the floor in front of you. Your hips are high.

Rest in this position for periods during the day. Ask your doctor about this and when to begin it.

Don't blame bulges on your baby.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Care During Pregnancy," send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 21, to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

CHICKEN IN BATTER

One frying chicken, 1 egg, ¾ cup milk, 3 tablespoons melted shortening, 1 cup sifted flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, ½ teaspoon paprika, ⅛ teaspoon poultry seasoning.

Cut chicken in pieces for serving, steam about 20 to 25 minutes. Pat pieces dry with cloth or paper toweling. Beat egg with milk and melted shortening. Add sifted dry ingredients, beat until smooth.

Sprinkle chicken pieces with salt, dip each piece in batter. Fry in deep hot fat 375 degrees F. (or hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread in 60 seconds). Fry until golden brown, turning as necessary to brown uniformly.

If you do not have a large frying kettle, it is best to fry a few pieces at a time to avoid crowding. As each piece is done, drain on absorbent paper and keep warm in slow oven 300 degrees F. until ready to serve.

That means delicious, nutritious 5 Minute "CREAM OF WHEAT" . . . for any breakfast that's truly nourishing is bound to be better with "Cream of Wheat". You see, 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" provides Iron for good red blood — and Calcium and Phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. It's the best way I know to start a busy day right! That's why I recommend "Better breakfasting" with "Cream of Wheat" . . . for all the family — beginning now!

My, Won't Your Husband Be Surprised. To find you are saving money, I mean. Yes, believe it or not, it's still possible to put money in the bank despite today's soaring prices. I should know—'cause I'm doing just that myself. There's no secret about it. On the contrary, I'm doing all I can to spread the good news around. The trick is to make your money go further than ever before and that means Personal Planning, the BANK OF MONTREAL'S new system of money management. It sure is a boon to budgets dizzied by high altitude prices! Whether prices going up or savings going down are your main worry, you'll be well advised to try Personal Planning. There's a breezy little booklet that tells you all about it. A copy is yours for the asking at your neighborhood branch of the B of M.

Right Now I'm Sure You're Busy Getting The Youngsters Back To School. No time for the Fall housecleaning you'd like to begin. But here's a "trick" I've found to make your house look whistle-clean (even though you know it isn't). Clean your windows, mirrors and picture glass 'til the whole house fairly sparkles—it's quick 'n' easy to do when you have WINDEX to help you! You see, with Windex you just spray it on and wipe it off, leaving each picture, mirror and window-pane sparkling clean! No rubbing—scrubbing—or heavy pails of dirty water! Windex's clear, active solution works swiftly, leaving no telltale dusty marks or streaks. Windex is economical, too—choose the 20-ounce refill size and remember to use it sparingly for best results.

Your Bright And Shining Home will bring admiring compliments ... when you've done your Fall cleaning the wonder-working way—with C-I-L SPONGES! Yes, C-I-L Cellulose Sponges will do just about every job you can think of . . . from washing walls, windows and woodwork — to waxing floors and polishing furniture! Soft as velvet when wet, C-I-L Sponges are kind to your hands and the finest finishes. They're long-lasting — and so easy to keep clean. Ask for C-I-L Cellulose Sponges — there's a handy size for every purpose — at grocery, drug, variety, hardware and department stores everywhere. And remember — the C-I-L label is your assurance of quality!

Has YOUR Family started using Dentocillin, Jergen's new penicillin tooth powder? Almost everyone I talk to is (and should be) excited about this new way to reduce tooth decay. In a 2-year test among school children, DENTOCILLIN reduced decay 55% . . . 5 times more than a famous university's ammoniated formula. (Actually, in each individual year of the test, 3 out of 5 children using Dentocillin developed no new cavities.) And results were not dependent on a change of brushing habits. Reason: penicillin effects of a single brushing last up to 24 hours. But, remember, you have to use Dentocillin regularly to effectively reduce decay. Tastes wonderful. Really cleans teeth. 75c for 3 months' supply.

Hungry As Bears when they get in from school . . . that's why you should give your youngsters something specially good for lunch! Well, here's a piping hot main-course dish that's so scrumptious, plates will be back for more before you can say "Kraft Dinner"! Yes KRAFT DINNER is a delicious macaroni-'n'-cheese dish that's a favourite with young and old alike! What's more, it's economical. One package of "Kraft Dinner" contains enough for a main dish for four at just pennies a serving. In every package there's a special, fast-cooking macaroni, as well as cheddar cheese, already grated, to sprinkle in for rich cheese flavour. And it takes just seven minutes to prepare . . . a "must" for your "emergency" shelf!

Chops For Dinner . . . so of course I'm putting SUNKIST LEMONS on my shopping list right now. For the tangy, exciting flavour of Sunkist California Lemons (the finest, juiciest lemons grown!) just can't be equalled as a taste-thrilling accompaniment to meat. Just try this luscious LEMON BUTTER FOR MEATS . . .

2 tbsp. Sunkist lemon juice
3 tbsp. butter
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. paprika
1 tbsp. parsley, finely chopped

Blend well, serve on hot steak, chops or fish. An additional garnish of Sunkist lemon quarters provides more tartness, if desired.

Three Flavour Treats from one package! Just as I do, get QUAKER CORN MEAL and try the scrumptious recipes on the package for Hasty Pudding, Golden Corn Muffins and hot, crusty Corn Bread. 'M-mmm! You'll thank the folks at Quaker over and over for these grand recipes . . . and for their incomparable Corn Meal. Yes, there's nothing like it . . . this is corn meal made by experts. Try it in dozens of dishes — it's a truly versatile food . . . and much better than bread or cracker crumbs for breading oysters, fish or cutlets. Ask your grocer for it tomorrow. I know you'll agree with me, once you've tried it, that Quaker Corn Meal is something every good cook should have in her kitchen.

If Corns Have Got You Feeling Grim . . . BLUE-JAY will put you back in trim! That's because the Blue-Jay folks have discovered a new wonder-working medication for corns and calluses called Phenylium. It took them ten years of scientific research to develop and perfect Phenylium. Tests were conducted with Phenylium and other regular corn medicants and it was proved conclusively that Phenylium goes to work 33% faster, works 35% more surely than other remedies, and removes corns completely in 19 out of 20 cases. Why suffer the torments of aching corns? For prompt relief be sure and ask your druggist for Blue Jay Corn Plasters with Phenylium.

Youngsters Are Always "Starving", aren't they? Well here's something to satisfy even the hugest of appetites . . . BOVRIL for lunch! Serve it as a hot piping drink . . . savoury and m-mmm!—wonderful—with its meaty, beefy-good flavour. If your youngsters take their lunch to school . . . put Bovril in a thermos bottle . . . or—make a dee-licious Bovril sandwich-spread. Bovril's good at any time of the day . . . as an after-school treat—or just before bedtime. It's good for the youngsters—good for your budget, for I know of no tastier way to save on meat! Ask your grocer for Bovril—in three handy forms—Cordial, Concentrate and Cubes.

There's One Thing I'm certain-sure my family will agree on . . . they're always glad to see meals made merry with HEINZ TOMATO PRODUCTS. M-mmm! There's nothing to equal the rich, rosy-red freshness of Heinz Tomato Juice—Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup—Heinz Ketchup and Heinz Chili Sauce. Just try 'em—and taste! Heinz Tomato Products have scores of uses in cooking . . . appetizer—popular first-course . . . flavour-magic for many a dish. And NOW is the time to stock up on the new pack—made of juicy, vine-ripened tomatoes, fresh-picked at this time every year. Ask your grocer tomorrow for the new pack of Heinz famous tomato "foursome". (Ask for Heinz Ketchup in the economical, big, 13-ounce bottle.)

AUBURN HAIR TINTS FOR AUTUMN

TORONTO (CP) — A New York hairdressing expert said yesterday that the most fashionable hair stylings this autumn will have a gold-red glint.

Victor Ferrantelle, director of his own school of advanced hairdressing in New York and guest demonstrator at the current convention of the Ontario Hairdressers' Association convention, had this tip for the style-wise:

"Color tinting, flame auburn for blondes and deep auburn for brunettes, is the news in hair styles this season. Before the year is out, most fashion-conscious women will have turned slightly red-headed."

And about how women will wear their hair:

"Curls are out and soft shallow waves are the thing. Hair has been worn down for a number of years, but now the style is around the head in soft waves."

Victoria Woman To Lebanon

TORONTO (CP)—Seven women will represent Canada at a meeting of the world council of the Y.W.C.A. Oct. 14-28 in Beirut, Lebanon.

National headquarters of the Y.W.C.A. announced today that the delegation will be headed by the national president, Mrs. J. L. Savage of Toronto. Others in the group: Lillian Thomson, Mrs. Walter Rean, Eva Coon, and Emma Kaufman, all of Toronto; Dr. Olga Jardine of Victoria, B.C.

LEARNS SOMETHING NEW

"Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue"

"Whoever wrote this rhyme must have realized how important blue is to happy home-making. For instance, to get the whitest wash—the kind that makes a bride proud—I've found one must use Reckitt's Blue. Just a swish or two in the rinse prevents any yellow tinge in my beautiful trousseau, and Reckitt's Blue costs less than two cents a washing."

Floral Frame Enhances Wedding Scene In First United Church

Glowing shades of mauve and pink gladioli, with pink and white streamers, created a frame for the wedding yesterday evening, in First United Church, of Marjorie Ruth, youngest daughter of Mrs. M. H. Martin, 1035 McGregor Avenue, and John Alfred Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hudson, 1261 Union Avenue.

Rev. Moir A. J. Waters read the marriage ceremony, and Mrs. Roberto Wood was organist. Miss Joan Northcott sang "O Promise Me" as the register was signed.

The pretty bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. W. D. Tindall, wore a white velvet gown with square neck and stand-up collar, three-quarter length sleeves and full skirt in afternoon length. Her shoulder veil of pale blue silk net was arranged under a white velvet Juliet cap; she had blue net mitts and slippers in the same pale tine. For "something old" the bride wore her grandmother's gold pendant studded with pearls. Her corsage was red rosebuds.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. R. A. Kuss, gowned in turquoise crepe backed satin with matching calot trimmed with pink flowers, blue nylon mitts and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom had his brother, Mr. Ralph Hudson, as best man, and ushers were Mr. Archie Should and Mr. Donald Wakelyn.

The reception was held at the home of the bride, where her mother, wearing black lace over mauve satin, with black straw rose-trimmed hat, and Mrs. Hudson, wearing navy blue lace over pink silk, with navy model hat with pink feather trim, both having gardenia corsages, assisted the young couple in receiving the guests. The lace-covered table, decorated with pink carnations and lighted pink candles, was centred with the three-tiered cake. The toast was given by Mr. Donald Cox.

Driving up the Island for their honeymoon, the bride wore a suit of brown and turquoise check, with brown velvet hat with turquoise feather trim, brown accessories, and a corsage of deep cream rosebuds.

The young couple will live in Vancouver.

Registration, Training Of Skilled Workers Ottawa Preparedness Plans

HALIFAX (CP)—Labor Minister Gregg said today that advanced planning for a national registration is going forward rapidly.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, Mr. Gregg said the registration plans are being made "so that one might be completed at short notice if the situation should demand it."

The government, he said, has acted on several important recommendations of the national advisory council on manpower, which a few months ago expressed belief a national registration was not needed at this time.

A plan has been inaugurated to step up the training of skilled workers for the armed forces and for defense production. An inter-departmental committee is working out a plan whereby employers engaged in essential activities will be given preference when the men and women who apply for work at National Employment Service offices are referred to jobs.

"I can assure you, too, in other departments of the government, similar efforts are being made to make certain that nothing will obstruct the fulfillment of Canada's program of preparedness," said Mr. Gregg.

COST OF LIVING

He referred to the cost of living, one of the top issues at the convention, and reiterated the government's view that price and wage controls would not be effective at this time.

"It is still our belief that inflation can be stopped without a maze of government orders, an army of government officials and the resultant imposition of restrictions which bind and chafe the individual citizen, and thwart the exercise of his democratic rights and freedom," said Mr. Gregg.

He added: "These beliefs are based on the assumption that most Canadians will play their full part in the struggle. I believe they will do that.

"What is needed above all else is individual restraint and greater production. Restraint on the part of the consumers when tempted to buy non-essentials regardless of price. Restraint in the part of business men, so they may be slow in translating a market opportunity into an increased price for their goods. Restraint on the part of labor in its collective bargaining proceedings that it may not seek and impose all that the traffic will bear.

INCREASED PRODUCTION

"In the midst of this restraint there is the need for greater efforts for more production on the part of us all."

The major cause of inflation was the robust demand for goods and materials. It followed that inflation could be stopped if the demand were met.

"It can be met if we can increase our production to the point where the needs of preparedness and the needs of everyday life are satisfied," said Mr. Gregg. "Perhaps it cannot be done. I think it can be done, and I'll tell you why I think that way — we have accomplished miracles of production before.

"In the Second World War, this country did more than anyone dreamed it could. There is no reason why we cannot do it again even though there does not exist the patriotic fervor of all-out war."

Should Aid Unemployed, Says Martin

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Health Minister Martin said last night that industry is under an obligation to do more for unemployed workers.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the Canadian Catholic Historical Association, Mr. Martin said family allowances and unemployment insurance are designed to meet lapses in employment.

He added:

"But to me it becomes increasingly clear that if a community makes manpower available to an industry, that industry has an obligation in periods of unemployment to do more than is now done to provide for the economic sustenance of unemployed industrial workers."

Concert Party To Raise Funds

The Red Triangle Concert Party is putting on a variety concert in the Legion Auditorium Sept. 20 and 21.

It is being staged to raise funds for the purchase of music and equipment to be used in putting on shows for servicemen.

The Red Triangle Concert Party was first organized to stage free shows for servicemen during the winter months. The performers appearing in the variety concert are the same ones who did a show in Fort Lewis, Washington for Korean-bound troops.

Included in the cast are singer Helen Wilson, imitator Rolly Walsh and a group from Florence Clough's dancing school. Kathy Packford and Joan O'Neil are arranging the show.

Hornet Sting Kills

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—A single hornet sting yesterday caused the death of 28-year-old Charles Pilger. Dr. David M. Spain said Pilger, stung on the back of his hand, had a rare allergy to the poison of the sting.

Pandora Funds May Help Build Nursing Home

Question of finances for the proposed new Victoria Nursing Home was laid on the table at Tuesday's City Council meeting, pending discussion on disposition of $150,000 received recently from sale of city property.

Move to table came from Ald. Margaret Christie, a member of the nursing home society's board of directors.

"If discussion comes before election it will save putting a by-law to the people."

She favored using the $150,000 from the sale of Pandora Avenue property to help build the new nursing home. Members of the Nursing Home Auxiliary supported this view.

F. E. Winslow, president of the Nursing Home Society, wrote council that the society hopes to have plans and estimates of cost within a month, so "that if other monies are not available you may be able to present the by-law at the coming civic elections."

In our family... Aylmer Tomato Soup is
FIRST CHOICE
FOR TRUE TOMATO FLAVOR
SAYS MRS. A. BUTLER
mother of lovely Janet, age 3, and lively Barry, 10. Dad sure looks proud of his healthy, happy family.
"FIRST OF ALL I choose Aylmer Tomato Soup for its better flavor," says Mrs. Butler.
"Only Aylmer seems to have that true, natural flavor of sun-ripened tomatoes—and that's why we like it so much. Then, I know Aylmer Tomato Soup supplies plenty of nourishment for the children when made with milk. And being on a budget, the reasonable price of Aylmer is a big selling-point with me."
Yes, you're money in pocket with Aylmer. And miles ahead in flavor and nourishment. You get the best for less—when you choose Aylmer Tomato Soup.

BEDTIME STORY

by Thornton W. Burgess

A shower taken every day
In health and happiness will pay.
—Hummer the Hummingbird.

Hummer the Hummingbird, he of the lovely ruby throat and exquisite green coat, is very proud of his fine dress. He takes the utmost care of it. He spends much time preening his feathers. Each feather must be in place just so.

Now anyone who is fussy about his appearance takes care to bathe often. It is so with Hummer. He thinks bathing is as important as eating. Of course it isn't quite so important, but Hummer acts as if it were. Of course it is the same way with Mrs. Hummer.

They take it in dew when it lies heavy on the leaves of trees. They take it in raindrops, a real shower bath. But they never take it in Laughing Brook or the Smiling Pool or the bird bath. They want shower baths, not baths in still water. They do not go into water as some of the birds do. When the leaves are wet, as they often are from heavy dew or in time of fog, smart little Mrs. Hummer takes her shower regularly. She flies in among the leaves and flutters so that the little drops of water fall on her and give her the shower she wants.

It was a dry time now. It had been dry for too long. That is what Hummer thought, anyway. He missed his shower bath. He missed it very much indeed. He wanted it for two reasons. He wanted it to keep his feathers clean. They were not really dirty, but he felt as if they were. He wanted it to help him keep cool. Hummer was disconsolate.

Then one morning Hummer was late in visiting Farmer Brown's flower garden. He usually visited it quite early in the morning, but this morning he was late. When he got there Farmer Brown's boy was busy among the flower beds. He was picking off the faded flowers and pulling a weed here and a weed there. Hummer visited the flowers in another part of the garden, but all the time he kept a small watchful eye on Farmer Brown's boy to see what he was doing. Farmer Brown's boy stooped and picked something from the ground. Suddenly the air just in front of him was filled with tiny drops of water like raindrops. They were so small that they made almost a mist. Farmer Brown's Boy was watering a flower bed.

Hummer didn't wait a second. His wings never moved faster than they did now as he shot across the garden straight into the spray from the hose Farmer Brown's boy was using. In the midst of that spray Hummer stopped abruptly for a moment or two. Then he darted out, turned and was back in a jiffy. He paid no attention whatever to Farmer Brown's boy. Here was a perfect shower bath and he was making the most of it. Never had he enjoyed a bath more. And never had Farmer Brown's boy enjoyed more watching the little jewel of a neighbor darting this way and that.

Skeena River Salmon Suffer From Landslide

VANCOUVER (CP) — An avalanche on a remote section of the Skeena River has resulted in the loss of millions of dollars of unborn salmon, fisheries department reports.

The department says a massive rockslide on the Babine River is badly mutilating and even killing salmon attempting to reach important spawning grounds and may result in 66 per cent loss on the sockeye salmon run four years from now.

The barrier blocks the way to grounds at the mouth of the Skeena. The grounds are used by 60 per cent of the fish in the Skeena area, second most important in the province.

In mid-August, 70,000 instead of the usual 200,000 fish had gone up river.

Almost 1,000 fishermen in that area are dependent on the fish for their existence.

A. J. Whitmore, chief supervisor of department engineers, says they are surveying the situation in the hopes it can be remedied by 1952.

21-Time Loser Gets $20 Fine

After hearing that the accused had had 20 convictions for infractions of the B.C. Motor Vehicle Act this year, Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today imposed a $20 fine and a license suspension against Bhag Singh, young East Indian of 830 Queens Avenue, for fast driving.

Singh was arrested Tuesday evening for failure to respond to a summons to appear in court Tuesday morning. Accused pleaded guilty to the speeding charge.

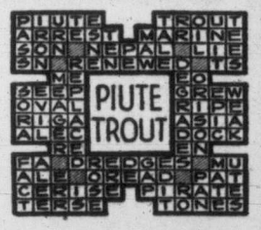
Answer to Previous Puzzle



The Crossword puzzle, a regular comic page feature in the Times, was held up in the mail for the early part of this week. The solution given today is for last Saturday's puzzle.

Seaman's Union Joins Huge Rail Brotherhood

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers (C.C.L.) and the National Seamen's Association of Canada have been merged, H. M. McMaster, co-founder and president of the seamen's union, announced Wednesday night.

An agreement transferring N.S.A.C. membership to the C.B.R.E. was signed a few days ago following negotiations for some weeks, Mr. McMaster said.

The seamen's union, with a membership of 3,500 to 4,000, will become a distinct local of the railways' labor body.

The agreement, Mr. McMaster said, was signed by A. R. Mosher, C.B.R.E. president who advocates affiliation into one big organization of all Canadian labor movements.

The N.S.A.C. head said more than 600 seamen already have been transferred into the C.B.R.E. after signing cards and a "100 per cent backing of the agreement" is expected shortly.

The N.S.A.C., an affiliate of the National Maritime Federation, was founded in 1933.

HEIDELBERG, Germany (Reuters) — Benoni Junker, 31, was released today from the American war-criminal prison at Landsberg, Bavaria, after having served his sentence, American army authorities announced here last night. Junker was convicted in connection with the Malmedy massacre, when 17 surrendering soldiers were shot down.

Aluminium Up Six Points At New High

MONTREAL (CP)—The industrial list climbed steadily in a follow-up to Wednesday's trend.

Senior metals and steels paced the market.

Aluminium Ltd. highlighted the market when it jumped 5⅞ points to a new high of 108⅛ under a turnover of more than 1,000 shares. Placer Development showed a net gain of 3½ points after rising 4½ to a new high of 49.

Papers were ahead, but Howard Smith gave the group a weaker appearance when it fell back five points to 112 following Wednesday's 10-point rise to a new high of 117.

Among gainers were Algoma Steel up 1⅛ at 58⅞ after touching a new high of 59¼, Canadian Celanese 1 at 61½, Intercolonial Coal 1 at 33½ and McColl ¾ at 36½.

Mines and western oils moved in an irregular price path in heavy trading.

Liquors In Demand

TORONTO (CP) — Industrial issues pushed steadily higher today toward the session's close. Trading was unusually heavy.

Liquors and miscellaneous industrials posted the strongest gains. Papers, agricultures and steels showed a majority of advances. Utilities, refining oils, banks, textiles, manufacturing companies and retail stores were mixed. Constructions and foods weakened.

Western oils held firm support and climbed to another record high. Trading was heavy in a wide list of issues. Ajax Petroleum, Anchor Petroluem, Davies Petroleum, Devon-Leduc, Mid-Continent, Kroy and Omnitrans were in demand.

Profit-taking skimmed some of the gains from yesterday's rapid gold advance. Senior issues tended to hold firm while juniors took the brunt of selling losses.

Base metals continued mixed and irregular. Anaconda Lead, Callinan Flin Flon, Fenimore Iron, Quebec Copper and Yukeno were active.

B.C. Forest Higher

VANCOUVER—B.C. Forest Products for the second day in succession made a new high. Today's jump was of 50 cents to 10.25. Other B.C. industrials were steady to lower, with Powell River dropping a point at 87.

Oils were stronger where changed. Superior was most active, adding 12 cents at a new high of 1.46, while American Leduc shot ahead to 1.70, up 17 cents. Also higher were Anglo Canadian, Calmont, Del Rio and Calvan.

Western Uranium was again a heavy trader with 5.40 the last trade before noon. Silver standard advanced 8 cents to 2.63, and American Standard 3 cents to 22. Estelle at 1.75 was 5 cents higher.

Rails Head Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street's September bull market rolled ahead today with railroads heading the rise. They got strong backing from oils and just about all of the metals.

The popularity of metals extended through copper, aluminum, zinc and gold shares.

Stocks going higher included Southern Pacific, New York Central, Texas Co., Sinclair Oil, American Smelting, American Zinc, Kennecott Copper, McIntyre-Porcupine, Aluminum Ltd., Climax Molybdenum, Union Carbide, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler and Douglas Aircraft.

Canadian issues climbed. McIntyre was up 1½, Canadian Pacific increased 1⅛ and Distillers-Seagrams was up ⅝, Dome Mines and Hiram Walker each gained ¼. International Nickel was unchanged.

On the curb, Royalite Oil gained ⅝, Lake Shore and Giant Yellowknife were up ⅛.

BONDS WITH A KICK

No Trick At All In Selling Convertibles

By HARRY YOUNG, Times Business Editor

While British Columbia had to go into the U.S. market to sell its new $35,000,000 of new bonds, leading Canadian companies and corporations are finding no difficulty in raising funds in Canada for new issues.

So much so that the issue of 10,000,000 convertible bonds in Brazilian Traction was heavily oversubscribed before the official announcement of the offer was made today to the general public.

The new bonds are 4½ per cent 20 years collateral trust bonds that may be converted into the common stock of Brazilian Traction at any time of their duration.

The issue is similar to those recently floated by Dominion Textile, B-A Oil, Husky Oil, Abitibi, Dominion Steel and Coal and Inter-Provincial Pipeline. These convertibles in some cases have already opened the way for substantial capital appreciation, and as they provide a form of security with a distinct hedge against inflation losses, they have won a considerable popularity with the investing public.

As an example, the recently floated B-A bonds are now trading at around 12 per cent premium.

In the case of Brazilian Traction, the bonds were issued at 98, and until Sept. 1, 1952, they may be converted into common stock at an exchange rate of $25. As the present market price of the common stock is $25¼, the conversion angle makes an immediate appeal. Later in the life of the bond the conversion rate gradually rises.

The whole effect of this and other convertible bonds is to give the investor a second chance of dipping into equity stock in the case of further cheapening of the dollar. This makes them of greater present appeal than the more staid government and municipal issues, which have not only a lower yield but also have no protection against inflation.

My comments earlier this week suggesting that Victoria manufacturers should cash in on the free advertising provided by the use of the thunderbird device on the new five-year B.C. automobile license plates has brought several inquiries from local industries as to how permission may be obtained to use this symbol.

Tom Sturgess, of the B.C. Trade and Industry Department, kindly comes to the rescue by sending me a copy of the regulations governing the use of this B.C. products insignia, which is copyrighted by the Vancouver Board of Trade.

The Vancouver B. of T. will supply application forms on request. The qualifications are that the goods to be marked must conform to a certain standard, and 60 per cent of the total combined material and labor costs of the article must have been expended in B.C. The applications will be considered by a special committee.

There is no charge to members of the Vancouver B. of T., but a registration fee of $35 is payable by non-members.

Island Mine Progress

Base Metals Mining Corporation earned 3¼ cents per share last fiscal year, compared with 3 cents. Profit was $126,850, against $87,068. Company announces that its Vancouver Island Base Metals Ltd. mine at Mt. Sicker is now reaching capacity operations after interruption caused by long drought, which interfered with water supply.

Trinidad Leaseholds Buys Alberta Company

CALGARY — Trinidad Leaseholds (Canada) Limited, closely affiliated with Trinidad Leaseholds of Great Britain, announced that it had purchased the drilling equipment of Canada West Drilling Company. The company will use a number of the rigs on contract drilling. The balance will be used for developing company properties in South Leduc.

A company office has been opened in Calgary under Charles Lee, and a branch office at Leduc under Harry S. Conder. The Trinidad Leaseholds announcement says that it believes its establishment in Alberta represents the first entry of British capital into the large-scale developments under way.

The Deep Rock Oil Corporation of Tulsa, Oklahoma, previously connected with Britalta in proving up gas reserves in Medicine Hat area, has now entered Alberta on an independent and active basis. Dr. Walter J. Fenny, of Winnipeg, formerly with Deep Rock in Tulsa, has taken charge of Canadian operations, the company announced.

BRIDGE LESSON

— by Oswald Jacoby

Bernard Shaw once said: "Those who can, do; those who can't, teach." He'd have been stumped at the sight of Peter Leventritt and Dick Kahn winning the Masters' Pair Championship in the recent national bridge tournament because Pete and Dick both teach bridge in the Card School. That's a pair of young men who can practise what they teach.

Leventritt will probably use the hand shown today as a lesson hand in one of his advanced classes. He has a right to use it because it happened to him in the national tournament.

West opened the king of hearts, and Leventritt refused the trick. His reasons for refusing the trick are the most interesting part of the play.

There are eleven top tricks in the North-South hands. The spades cannot break favorably, since one opponent is sure to have at least four spades. The chief hope for the twelfth trick lies, therefore, in a 3-3 break of the missing six diamonds. However, the odds are almost 2 to 1 against such a favorable break.

A good declarer doesn't like to be on the short end of 2 to 1 odds, so Leventritt looked around for another chance to make his contract. The best chance lay in a squeeze. Even if the diamonds failed to break favorably, the contract could be made if the same opponent had four spades and four diamonds, or four spades and all the heart honors or four diamonds and all the heart honors.

In most squeezes it is necessary to have winning cards for all except one of the tricks when you start to apply the pressure. That's why Leventritt refused the first trick. It left 12 tricks to be played, and he could win 11 of them—which was exactly the position he wanted.

West continued with the queen of hearts, and declarer won with the ace. He next ran his four clubs, discarding a diamond from dummy. He then tried the diamonds, and discovered that West was squeezed.

When the third top diamond was led, West could save only four cards. All four cards had to be spades, since otherwise dummy's fourth spade would become established. West discarded his ace of hearts in the hope that his partner had the ten, but it was no go. Leventritt promptly cashed the ten of hearts and took the rest of the tricks with high spades.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

With TOMMIE WALTERS

Some years ago, orchestra director Robert Armbruster of "Music From Hollywood" admitted he had an unfilled secret life ambition. A recent check with the busy composer, arranger and director, discloses that his ambition is still unfulfilled—but that hope is not yet dead. "I want to be a rich eccentric," he says, "and when I am, I'll build a small theatre the size of the court theatre in Mozart's day and do a Mozart operetta. I'll also play the harpsichord and conduct." He wants his singers to be young American or Canadian artists and the treatment of the music and the theatre to be as if Mozart were still alive and had just written the operetta. In other words the production won't be jazzed up. If he realizes his ambition, he'll make a fortune—or lose his shirt. And he says he's quite prepared to do either.

The quiet-spoken, pipe-smoking Armbruster smilingly claims that what's holding him back are the obstacles of no time, and not enough money. But he has the other necessary requirement—the eccentricity. At one time he might have turned into a staid conservative business man and side-tracked music into an avocation. He became sales manager for a machinery firm, but was unhappy after two years and quit. Then he got involved musically with the then new fad, radio, and is now completely enmeshed in music. Drawing on his pipe he now says, "Come back and see me in a few years. I'll have that theatre open by then—maybe." Still we can think of a lot more screwy ideas. Such a theatre must have been quite a treat in the old masters' days. We doubt if he'll make a fortune—but he's not likely to lose any raiment either.

If we didn't believe it's Wrong for any Agency to Pick the Biggest Plums we'd Buy it Ourselves!

Someone is going to be a mighty lucky person because of this owner's desire for a Quick Sale. Some lucky person is going to be able to spend a Dollar and find it's still got one-hundred cents in it. Yes, this home is going to be sold for less than you'd expect to pay and we're here to say if you've any appreciation of property values on Uplands slopes, if you know Thompson Avenue is near the best of schools, is near a sandy, clean, safe beach, is near an excellent progressive shopping centre, near Uplands fine golf course, then knowing this you'd know this is a most popular, much sought-after area of good homes. Touching on the highlights, and again let us remark, that words being poor vehicles for eye pictures, we will endeavor to do justice. There in a wide expanse of luxuriant lawns, almost 100-foot frontage, all landscaped, dotted with small shrubs, lily pools and bisected by a wide curving walk that leads up to a large concrete patio on into a wide L-shaped through-hall around which is grouped a large living room, a nice modern dining room, a kitchen with tile sink and numerous cupboards, two lovely bedrooms, a four-piece bath with the best fixtures, and last, but not least, off the kitchen a laundry room. Then by wide stairs to a basement which contains a rumpus room, automatic oil furnace, automatic ($150) electric storage hot-water reservoir, and a fire-proof garage. Out into a small, fenced back vegetable garden which opens on to a wide rear lane. This fine home is exceedingly well-built, its naturally warm and has insulation and weather stripping, and on top of its many other extras every room is first-grade oak floor. See this without delay. It can't last long. We can show it morning, noon or night, and we're proud to offer it as another fine example of the good homes Residential Realty can show home seekers.

Oak Bay Bows To Saanich In Semifinals

Finalists were decided in the city bantam box lacrosse championships last night at Stevenson Park when Oak Bay bowed to Saanich 7-1 in the second game of a two-game total-goal series.

Saanich won the series 16-1, thus qualifying to meet Fernwood in a best-of-three series for the F. W. Francis trophy. Finals will start on Monday at Stevenson Park.

Ross Roscamp paced the Saanich attack with three goals while Des Johnston and George Robbins each scored twice. Oak Bay's lone goal was scored by Bill McColl.

In the best-of-three final series for the city juvenile "B" title and the Victoria Sporting Goods trophy, Fernwood took a one-game lead by defeating Oak Bay 5-3.

Steve Foster and Ed Longpre each tallied two goals for the victors, while Noel Boston scored the odd one. Bob Showers, Dave Edgar and Peterson tallied for Oak Bay.

Saanich and Oak Bay will meet in the second game of their best-of-three final series for the peewee crown and the Brock Whitney trophy tonight at 6.15. Saanich holds a one-game lead.

Oak Bay Club Meets Billed

Play in both men's and women's championships will open at the Victoria Golf Club this week-end.

Qualifying round of the men's tourney will be held Sunday, with match play to be held on succeeding Sundays.

Women's meet opens Monday with an 18-hole qualifying test continuing through the week until its conclusion. Marjorie Todd is defending champion.

Prison Fare Up Nickel Per Head

Present-day high cost of living has entered into the picture of feeding prisoners in the city jail. Cafe operators told the city police commission meeting Wednesday that owing to the higher cost of foodstuffs they could no longer furnish meals at 50 cents. The commission agreed to boost the fee to 55 cents a meal.

The board, presided over by Acting-Mayor Frank Mulliner in the absence of Mayor Percy George, agreed with Chief Blackstock that the operations of the city pound should not be linked with the police department. The chief thought it was quite proper for his men to hunt the town for lost persons, but turned "thumbs down" on looking for lost pups.

Accept $1.40-Hour Pay

VANCOUVER (CP) — A conciliation board recommendation of $1.40 an hour basic pay has been accepted by 4,000 paper mill workers and mill operators in British Columbia.

H. L. Hansen, international representative of International Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, said today the agreement means a 16½ per cent wage increase with a minimum boost of 22 cents an hour.

It is the first industry-wide contract in the primary pulp and paper industry here.

The agreement also provides a 40-hour week and a cost-of-living clause of one cent for every 1.3 rise in the government index.

SHOCKS TOWN'S COUNCILLORS

BIARRITZ, France (Reuters)—Town councillors gasped yesterday when the mayor unveiled a statue of the Empress Eugenie and found only a pyramid topped by an apple-sized head.

Mayor Guy Petit asked sculptor Juan Luis Causino to explain why the Empress, wife of Napoleon III and benefactor of Biarritz, had not been portrayed classically as the municipal commission had requested when it ordered the statue.

Casino explained he was not responsible for the statue—it was "an act of God."

In Carrera, Italy, Causino explained excitedly that he was persuaded by a mysterious force to replace the Empress with Virgin rising from the pebbles.

He then conceived the Virgin as a pyramid topped by a tiny head gasping for the sorrows of the world, he said.

A Case Of When George Becomes Percy

Percy Edward George last night met George Edward Percy.

Confusing, isn't it? At least that is what the audience thought at Jordan River, where Coalition candidate Mayor Percy George was introduced by George Percy, chairman of the meeting.

Percy—George Percy that is—handled the tongue-twisting introduction masterfully, however, and assured his audience he was not introducing himself backwards.

He just wanted those present to meet George . . . er . . . Percy George, Victoria's mayor, who was going to say a few words.

Well, Percy (our Percy) had his say, but George (Jordan River's George) had the last word. He thanked the speakers of the evening, one of whom was Percy.

Then George . . . aw to heck with it! That's 30.

"Pike's Peak or bust" was the slogan of a gold rush in 1859 in Colorado.
